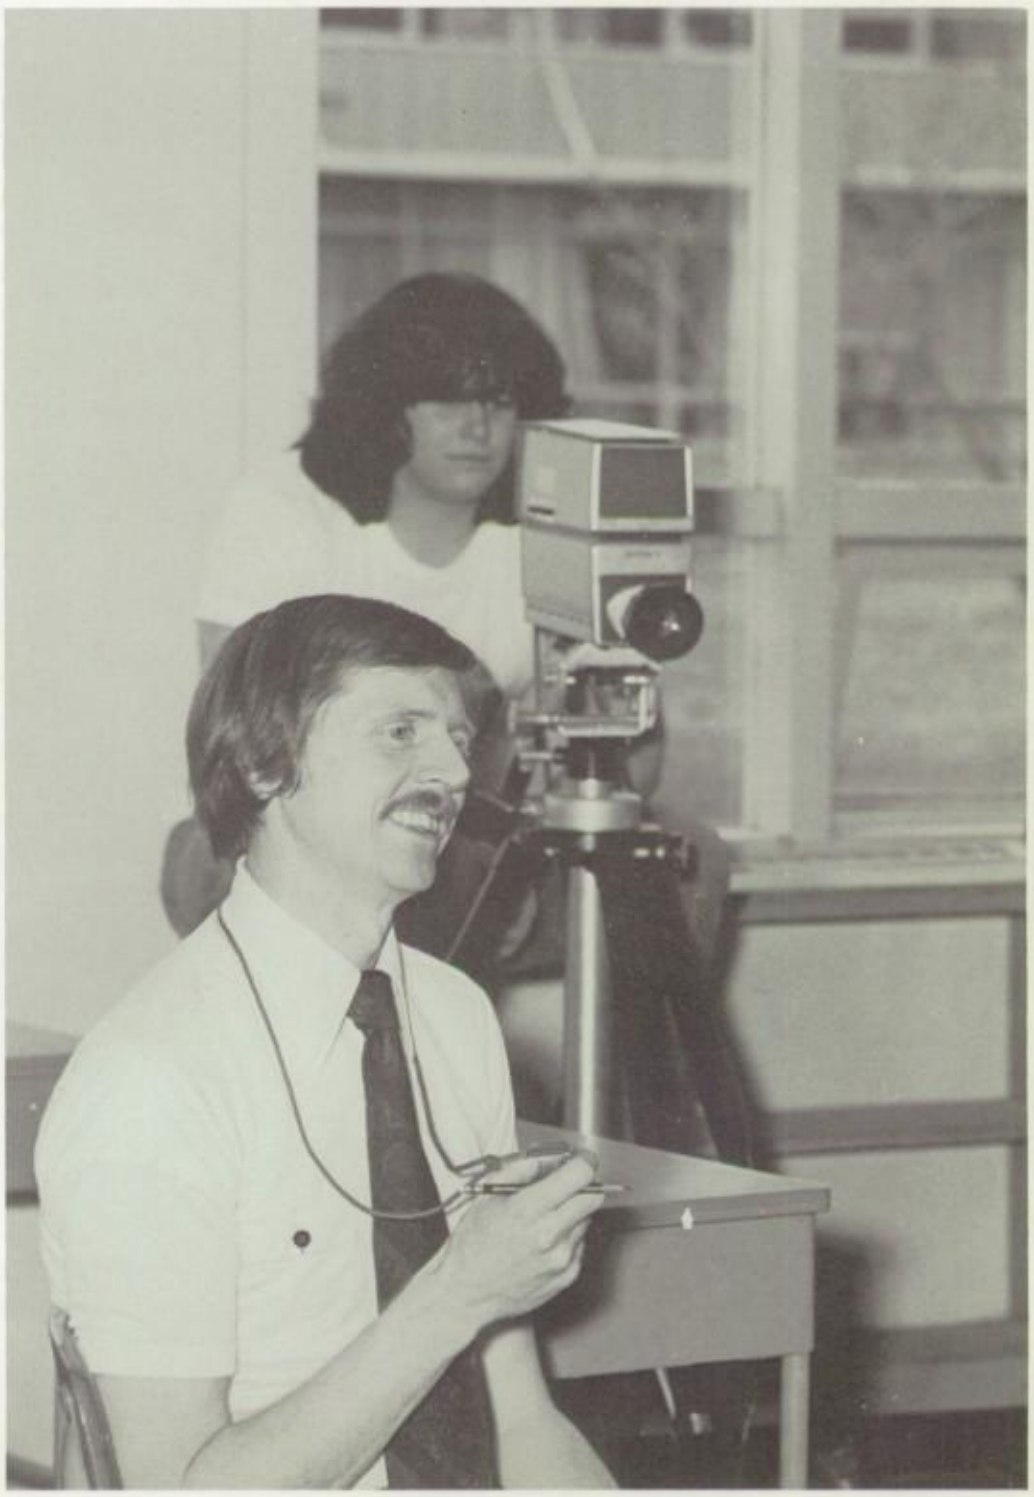
NATICK HIGH SCHOOL

NATICK, MASSACHUSETTS

DEDICATION



We, the seniors of Natick High School, proudly dedicate our Sassamon yearbook to Mr. William Holbrook.

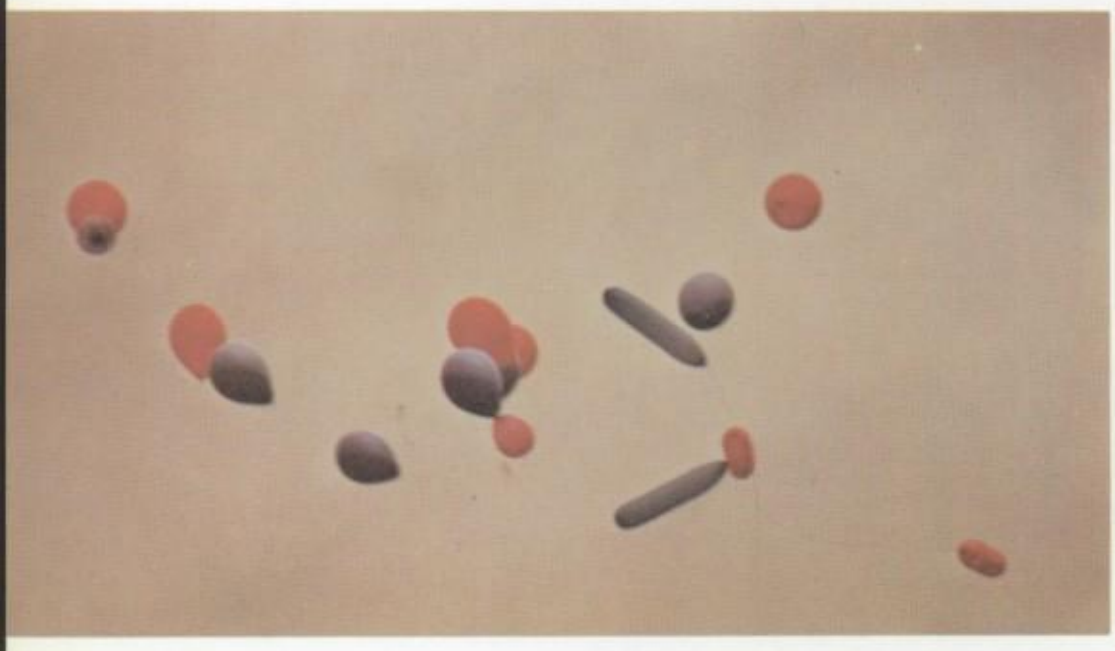
At some time or another during our three years at Natick High, each and everyone of us has come into either personal or indirect contact with Mr. Holbrook.

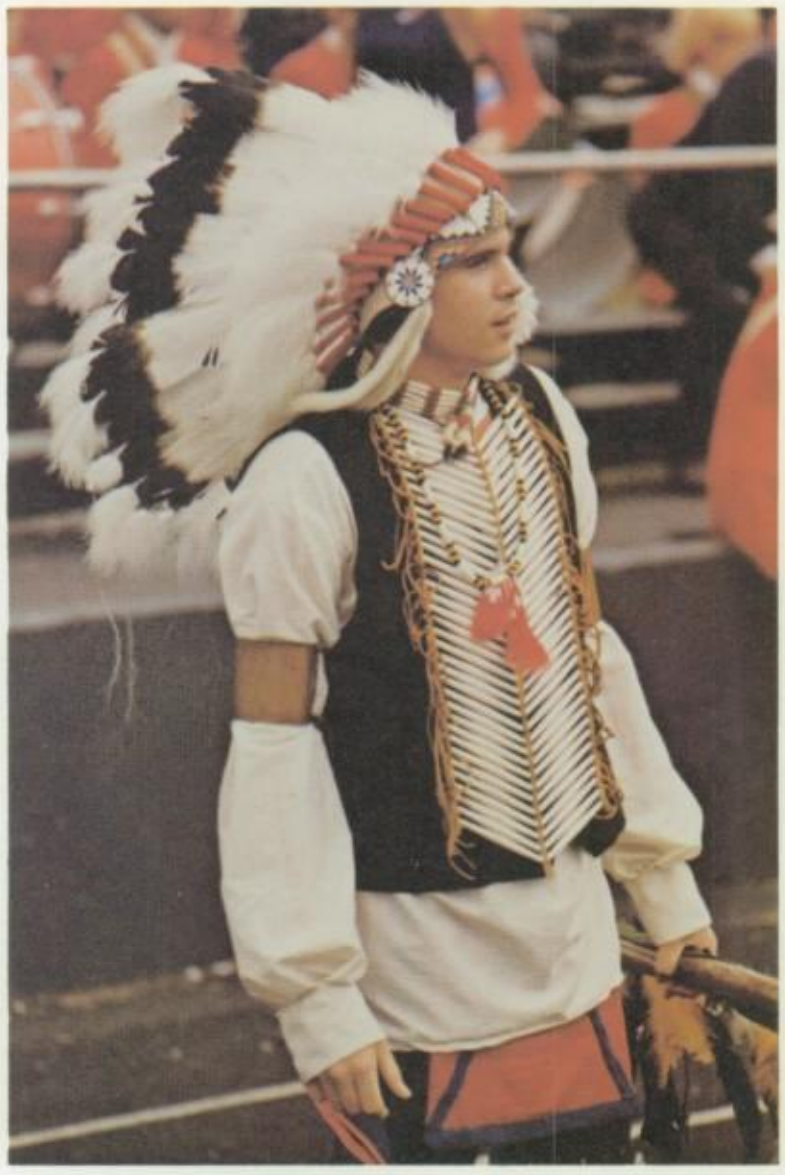
Mr. Holbrook has been a great help to all of the Natick High students whether we know it or not. Mr. Holbrook is the faculty advisor to the school newspaper, The Sassamon. Most of his time, however, is spent in the English department teaching Journalism and Creative Writing. His quick wit and sincere devotion to his students keep them actively interested in the pursuit of their studies. This year he was appointed Director of the Natick Adult Education Program. Never before has this program run so successfully.

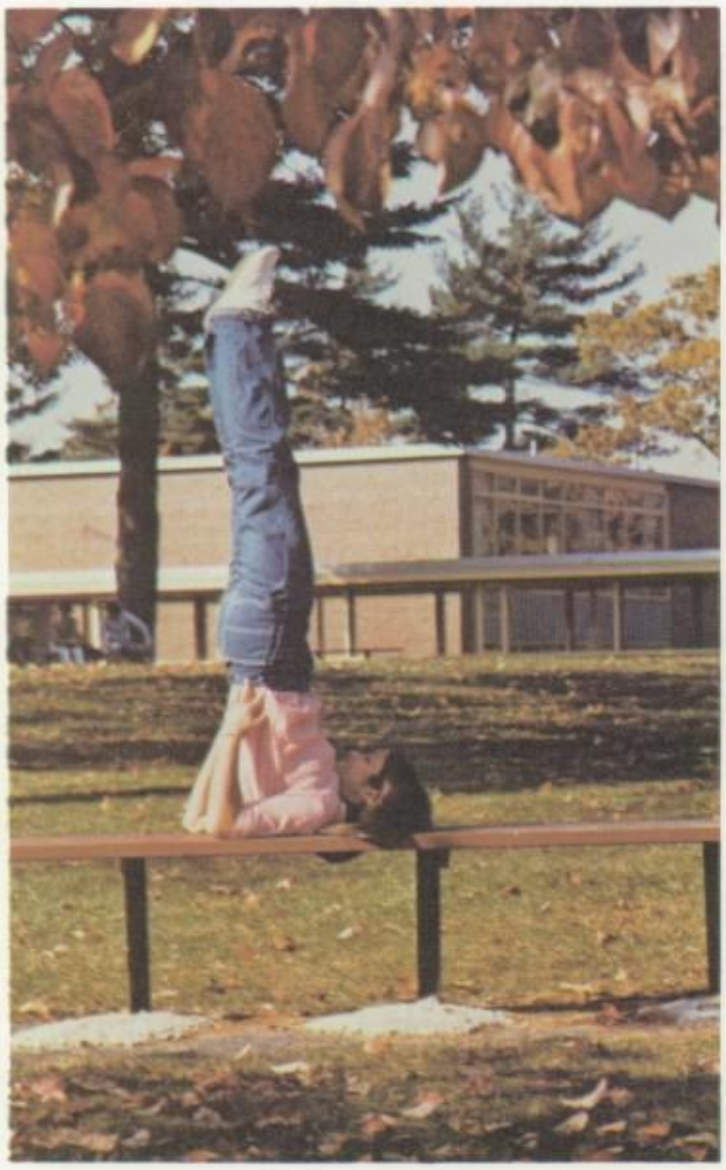
During our three years here, Mr. Holbrook's sense of humor has made dark times bright, his educational knowledge has made difficult things easy to understand, and his just being here has made hard times bearable. So in our small way we of the class of 1976 say, "Thank you" to Mr. William Holbrook.

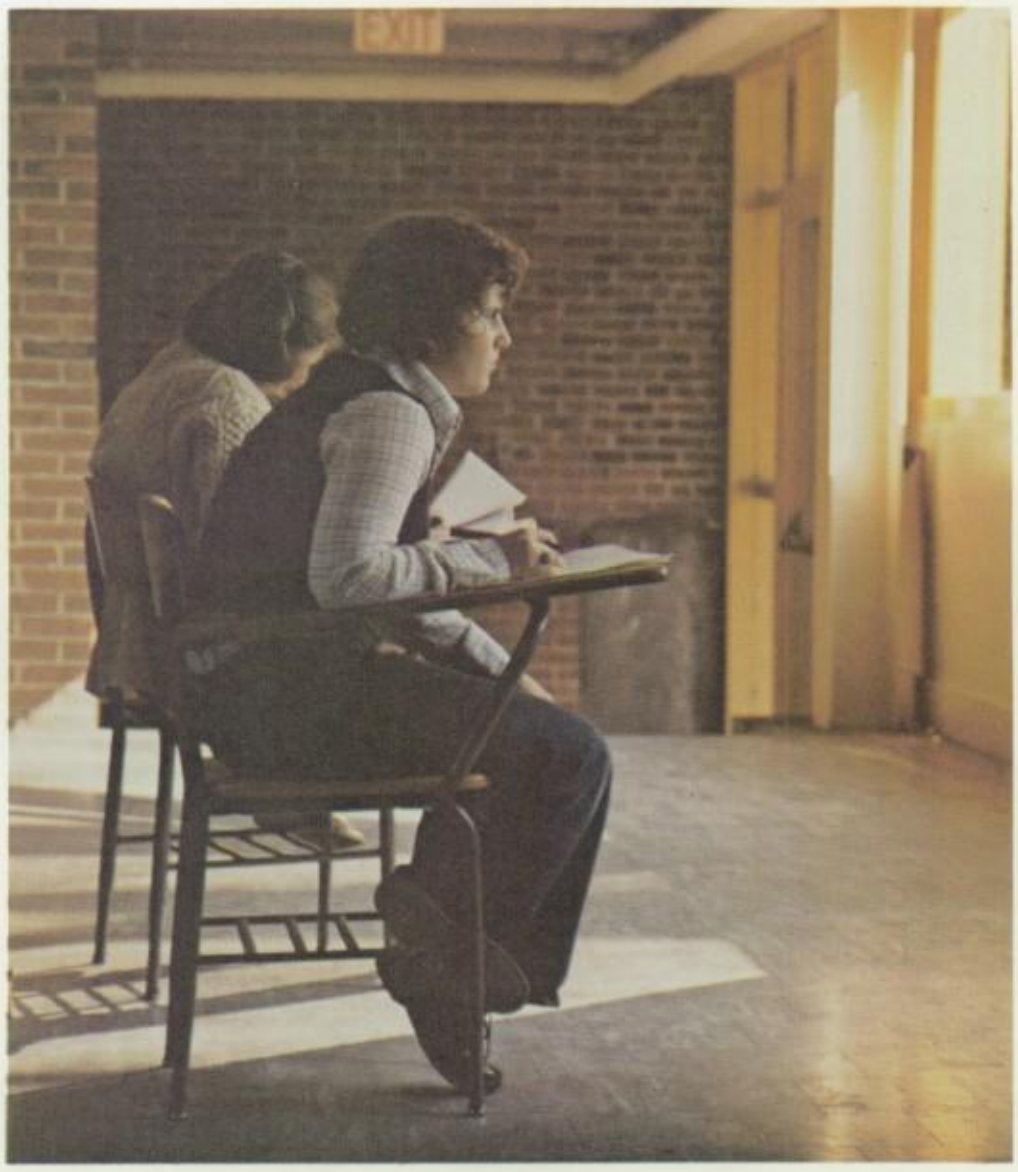
Greg Lakis

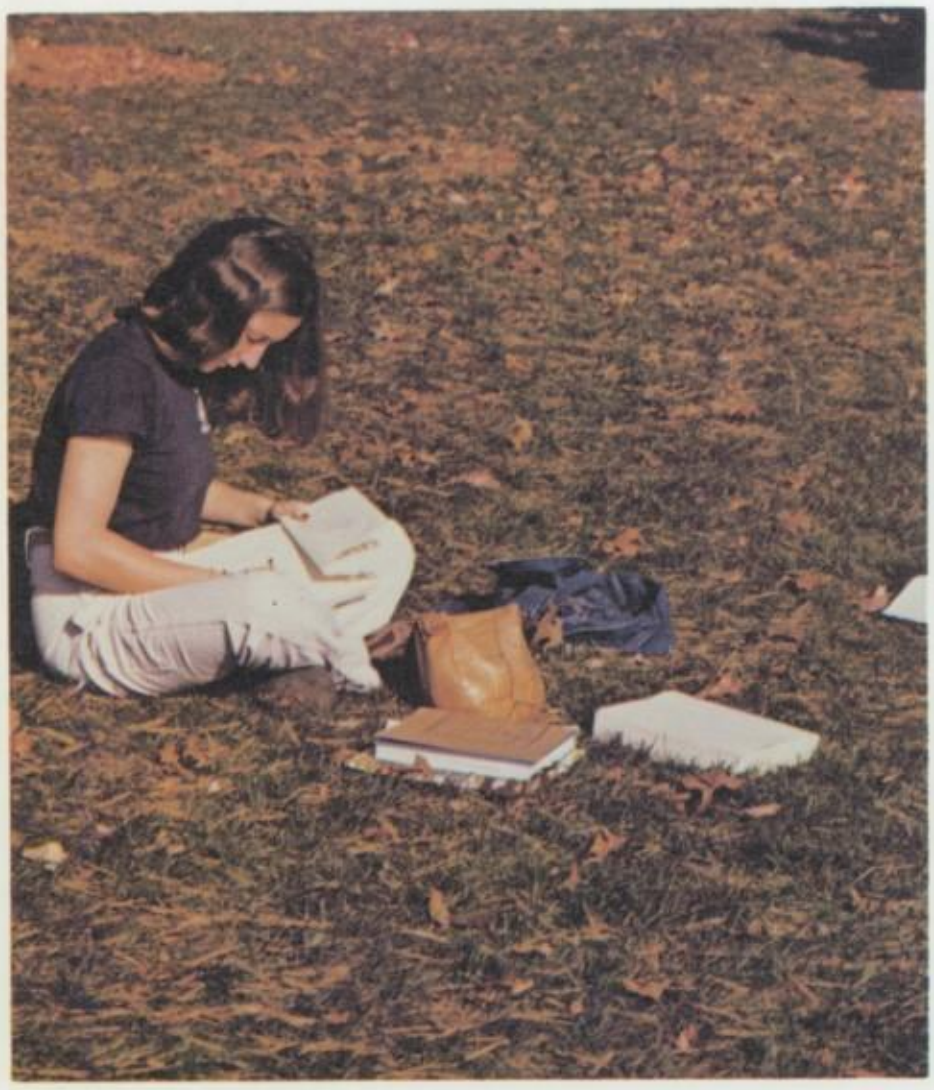
We look ever to the future hoping for something better, for something new and different.

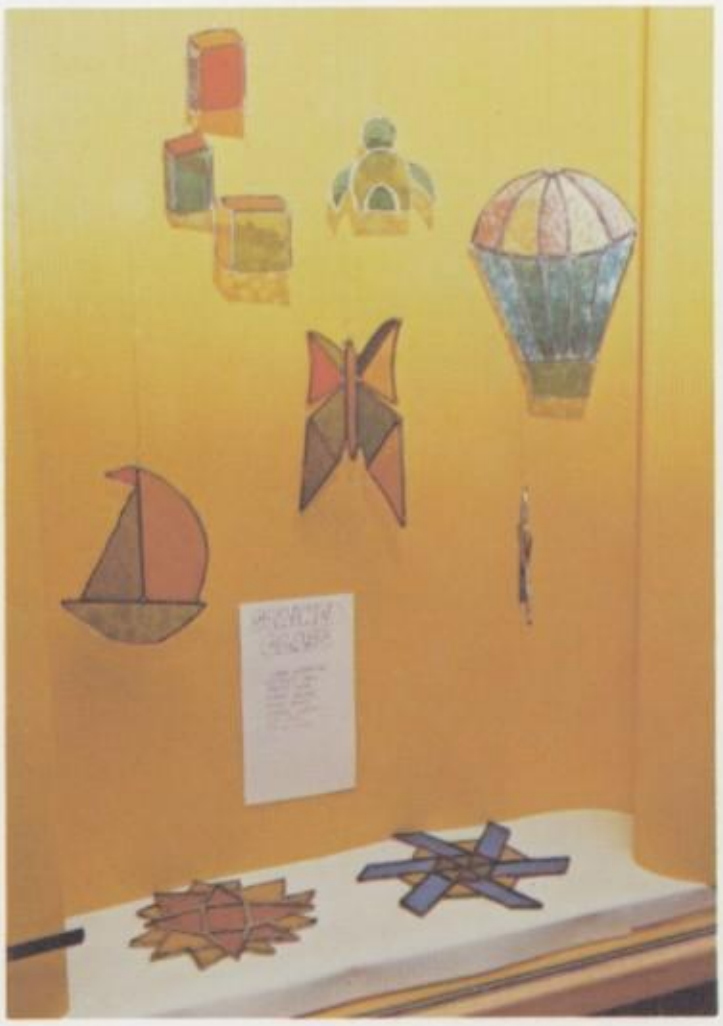


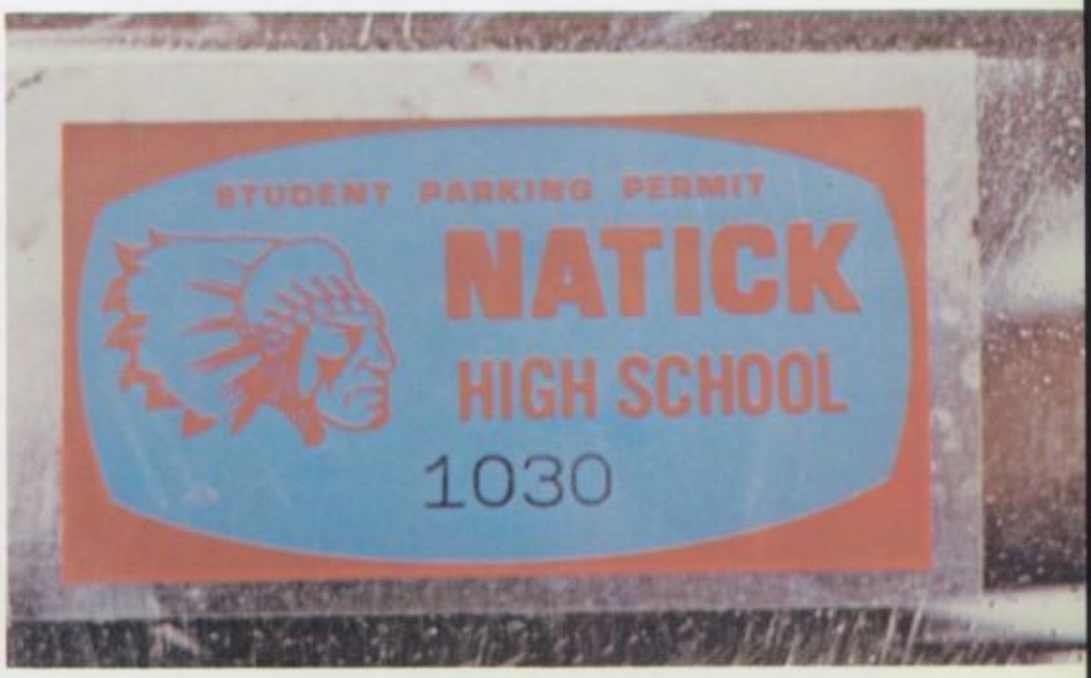












Often we plunge forward without even thinking where the plunge may take us.

Even after we have attained what we have sought it seems to us that little has changed; for always there is something that can be improved. It is only when we look back, to times that were, that we realize just what we had. Then we wish that the changes had not been so great. How wonderful life would be if we could revisit those moments that we cherished most!

Time lets us remember the best. We don't recall the depressing, rainy days but the sunny days we spent with friends and the moments we loved.

SCIENCE

The Science Department had a very productive year. Probably the most well known project was the construction of the greenhouse, under the direction of Mr. Barnicle. Although the project had a slow start and there was much red tape, the greenhouse is now almost completed.

Mrs. Larkin and Mr. Beeuwkes attended a two day conference sponsored by Mass. biology teachers.

Mr. Murray and three students attended a symposium on Population Dynamics.

There were of course many more activities than this during the course of the year, too many to list here. This was a year that the Science Department played a leading role in education at Natick High.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

In looking through the many yards of enrollment printouts for the year 1975-1976 it should be noticed that there are more students involved in some way with the Industrial Arts Department; a whopping 80% of the NHS student body; than any other elective on the NHS curriculum. In fact, only Gym and English, mandatory subjects by state law, involve more students. This says quite a bit for the Industrial Arts program and teachers.

Mr. Wilder, Department head for the Industrial Arts, was out from the February vacation on with a severe back injury that involved an operation. According to Richard Duval, who teaches Woodworking, "The kids and teachers both helped out to keep the program running smoothly. "Mr. Sticklor, the Industrial Arts Department Head prior to Mr. Wilder, also shouldered a major portion of the work during Mr. Wilder's absence."

The Natick Rotary Club this year again donated awards to students that had achieved outstanding recognition in Industrial Arts. These awards consisted of $90.00 worth of tools to be used in the type of work the student received the award for. The awards were given to: Seniors Daniel Ostreicher, Woodworking; Donald Burns, Metal Working; Steven Marchetti, Mechanical Drawing; John O'Toole, Electricity/Electronics; Juniors David Kadlik, Graphic Arts; Michael Lentini, Power Mechanics; and Chris Hafner, Structures.

Industrial Arts also shows an increase in female enrollment this year. As the different industries are becoming more equality minded toward hiring women, Industrial Art classes are looking more and more attractive to a greater number of female students than ever before. As Mr. Buduo, teacher of graphic arts stated this year, "Industrial Arts is no longer a field for men, it is a field for persons."

Because Industrial Arts is a progressive field, a comprehensive course in I.A. cannot function properly without keeping up with the latest trends. Many of the department members are involved with programs, societies, memberships, and professional organizations that all help to upgrade their awareness of ongoing happenings in the field of industrial arts, practical arts, and fine arts.

MUSIC

This year the instrumental and vocal groups of the Music Department have been very active. These groups consist of the Marching band, Concert Band, Stage Band, Concert Choir, Chamber Singers and The Harmoneers. For a look at their activities, please see pages 62-65, 198-201, and 216-217.

What does music mean to those involved? Perhaps these statements will lend some insight.

"Through a high school music program, students learn that they were given lungs for more than breathing and that being full of hot air isn't so bad!"

"Listening to music is great, but making it is the best."

"Music is better than a sport because it will always be with you and you don't get hurt playing it!"

The Language Department had an active year this year, the highlight being International Week. Among the events sponsored were a feature-length French film, a Spanish Flamenco dance, a Mardi Gras party, and visits from foreign students. Each day in the cafeteria a foreign dish was served as part of the festivities.

A number of field trips were arranged as part of the curriculum also. The French 41 class attended a performance of Phedre in Wellesley, given by a famous French company. The Spanish 31 and 41 classes attended an all-day program in Boston featuring intercultural events and a performance by Jose Greco, a famous Spanish dancer.

Various classes also had the chance to indulge in some foreign dishes either in a restuarant, in school, or at a teacher's home. Among these were a German dinner at home of Mrs. Gelinas, and the Spanish 31 class at the Casa Mexico.

The Natick High School Business Department is like a large family. Students and teachers have a common ground. The work that is accomplished by teachers is that they get across to the students the importance of the business world, and in return the students learn to go into business fields after high school.

Some of the main events this year were Mrs. Kowal's Lester-Hill Corporation that operated in A107 and "Serendipity" was introduced to advanced business machines classes under Miss Zinck.

Business students that received high honors from the department were Stephanie Reuman and Donna Lee Walker, for their outstanding work.

And who ever said that the Business Department was just old hat? New courses like Machine Transcription Lab, Business Communication Lab and Office Simulation are being offered next year.

All in all, the Business Department definitely does its share, to help with the betterment of Natick High School and the future of its' students.

By the way, Miss McDade's picture was HER idea and her sense of humor is very much appreciated.

ENGLISH

If you have meandered through the halls of the English wing this year you have probably noticed the murals of Hamlet, MacBeth, and Julius Ceaser. These murals were accomplished by Mr. John B. Buck, art instructor, to brighten up the halls and make walking to English class more enjoyable.

The National Council of Teachers of English awarded the department for its excellence in its Instructional Writing Program. Only twenty high schools out of hundreds were given this high honor.

This year the English Department launched a successful new pilot program. The program is tailored to the different needs of the students. It is Individualized Instruction supervised by Mr. Garnett and Mr. Bates.

Senior, Steven Kruger was honored by the National Council of Teachers of English for his excellence in writing.

Current Popular Literature was added this year as a new English course. The course taught by Mr. Gerald Dyer was very successful.

A new air conditioned Resource Center was put into use for the teachers. This center houses curriculum materials from the National Council of Teachers of English. Also on file are prepared units done by teachers that all teachers can share. It's also used as a place for teachers and students to meet on a one to one basis.

Miss Beth Grady left June 11, 1976, for an Outward Bound tour. She took a course in "Project Adventure" in Maine. This was a one-month course ending in a survival course where she lived on an island for three days by herself. In order to pass, Miss Grady survived with only what nature provides.

Also, Mr.Brad Leavitt went to New Hampshire to take a "Project Adventure" course.

Mr. Robert Whelan was the president of the Massachusetts Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation for 1975-1976. He represented Massachusetts at the National Convention in Milwaukee. The convention discussed ways of keeping the physical education activities and programs modern and up to date.

A big emphasis was on organizing co-educational classes during 1975-1976. Most all activities were open to junior and senior girls and boys. Next year sophomores will be involved in co-ed gym classes. Also, more emphasis was placed on the girls' weight toning program. More girls participated in this activity in the last two years, than ever before.

This year the Math Department offered two new courses: Probability and Statistics and Integrated Math. Integrated Math is a combination of Algebra and Geometry. It is helpful to many students taking college board exams. Both of these courses are semesterized. Probability and Statistics students, working with Miss Goulding and Mr. Overlock, have been involved in how to recognize misleading statistics and how surveys are conducted. In the first case, five basic questions were employed; who, how, missing, change, and common sense. Students applied these questions to advertisements and articles of interest containing statistics and formed a note-book of critique. This created an awareness of statistics and hopefully was the basis of becoming a more intelligent consumer. In the second case, students worked on self-initiated survey projects in school, in the community, and at their place of employment in order to understand the fun, and frustration in the development of statistics.

These pictures are taken from the play "Our Town", which is performed in the Humanities course every year. The students become very involved in the play; it is the one activity they all remember. The play is produced and directed by the students. Humanities is offered as both a Social Studies and English course. "Our Town" proves to be a great learning experience because it tells us to really look hard at life and appreciate what we have.

The department as a whole worked hard in providing relevant and topical programs that students could both enjoy and sink their mental teeth into. Response to such new classes as Women in History, The American Indian, Frontiers in American History, Revolutions, Comparative Religions, The Twenties and Thirties, and The Sixties according to Mrs. Ellen Robertson, department chairman, was excellent.

Social Studies also offered Sociology II and Psychology II as two new semester courses.

Out-of-school or at least out-of-classroom activities are a very real part of the teachers' role at NHS this year. Many of the department instructors double as football, golf, and baseball coaches; supervise student election endeavors; instruct political campaign moves; teach on-the-road Driver Education; advise the competitive speech program; and work directly with the school musicals and plays.

Again this year Candidates Day had approximately thirty students working on the various programs. And many of the Social Studies students are gearing up to work in the 1976 Presidential Election in the fall.

Many local and area community leaders and agencies worked with the department in conjunction with various classes providing expert commentary on the workings of town, state, and national government, programs, and institutions.

This year also saw Mr. Edward Culhane work in the capacity of Administrative Intern in the front office. His duties included all those of a regular vice-principal. He will return next year to teach International Relations and Modern Problems.

Ms. Virginia Tartakoff was also awarded a Sabbatical leave to work on her PHD at Boston College in 1976-1977.

Chapter 766 has opened a new door for students with special needs. At Natick High School, 766 works in a number of ways. One facet of the total special needs program is the multi-handicapped class. This particular program is co-ordinated and carried out by the special needs teacher, Miss Cordella.

The students in the program are of many varied learning aptitudes, as well as having more than one handicap. The program for these students is broken up into two different programs.

In the morning, these students are involved in doing their functional academics. They are developing their daily living skills, personal hygiene skills, and independent living skills. They are also developing their functional reading and math skills.

After lunch, the students either go to workshop, or they are engaged in competitive employment. This afternoon component is an integral part of the total program. It is at this time that the students gain some independence and they develop vocational skills that will be helpful when they become productive members of society. Chapter 766 is truly a worthwhile and helpful program.

WALK-IN CENTER

One of the newest and biggest aspects at Natick High School these past few years is the Walk-In Center.

The Walk-In Center is designed mainly for the students in the school, but faculty and others are welcome. It's basically just a place to sit down and talk about whatever; problems, school, dreams, anzieties, etc. And the best thing about the Walk-In-Center is that everything is strictly confidential.

The Walk-In staff is made up of Enid Gilbert, Counselor; Sue Van der Kerkhove, Social Worker; and Phil Rubenstein, Psychologist. All of them are trained to help you. You want to talk? They want to listen!

If you're a little withdrawn about talking with an older person, the Walk-In Center also provides Peer Counselors who are also trained to help you.

So the next time you have a problem, or just the need to talk, stop by the Walk-In Center. You'll find it worth your while.

STUDENT COMMITTEE FOR POLITICAL ACTION

The SCPA has attempted this year to bring more NHS students into contact with our elected officials, as well as to promote student interest and participation in political campaigns and organizations, whether it be on a local or school level or on a state and national spectrum.

In early October, Massachusetts State Senator Edward Burke took part in a seminar, sponsored by the SCPA, attended by members of the International Relations and other social studies classes. Everyone was very impressed with Senator Burke as he was quite young, very relaxed and related easily with the students.

Late in the fall, Representative Louis Nickenello visited NHS and spoke to interested students about the state's budget preparation. He also explained why he, among others, felt that certain beneficial government services must have budget cuts ("We can't spend what we don't have."). Coming at the time of the state's uproar over our new governor, Dukakis, and over his rather large defifit and more taxes, this discussion was very appropriate.

The SCPA's big coup of the year was the visit in November of Presidential Candidate, President of Duke University and former Governor of North Carolina, Terry Sanford. Mr. Sanford spoke to about eighty students and a handful of media people in an effort to arouse support for his campaign. Candidate Sanford came up with logical and often humorous answers to questions. One student asked, "Why wouldn't you put a military man in the Secretary of Defense position?" Sanford quickly responded, "I don't believe you should put a rabbit in charge of the lettuce."

SASSAMON YEARBOOK STAFF

The Yearbook staff worked very hard this year. We added color to the book and enlarged it by fifty pages. In order to pay for these "extras", we sold advertising space, plants, chocolates and, the all-time favorite, candy bars.

The editors this year were: Carol Bergen, Copy Editor; Sue Cheever, Art Editor; Peggy Cormier, Layout Editor, Greg Lakis, Sports Editor; Michelle LeDoux, Publicity Editor; and Leslie O'Brien, Business Editor.

We would especially like to thank Steve Miller, Scott McGrath, Kathy Stygles, Molly Reed, Dolores Trabucco and Karen Thomas for their help.

Most people do not realize the work that is involved in publishing a yearbook. At times, things got pretty hectic, but working on the book was a lot of fun and worthwhile. Hope you all enjoy SASSAMON '76!

CREATIVITY

Every beauty and greatness in this world is created by a single thought or emotion inside a man.

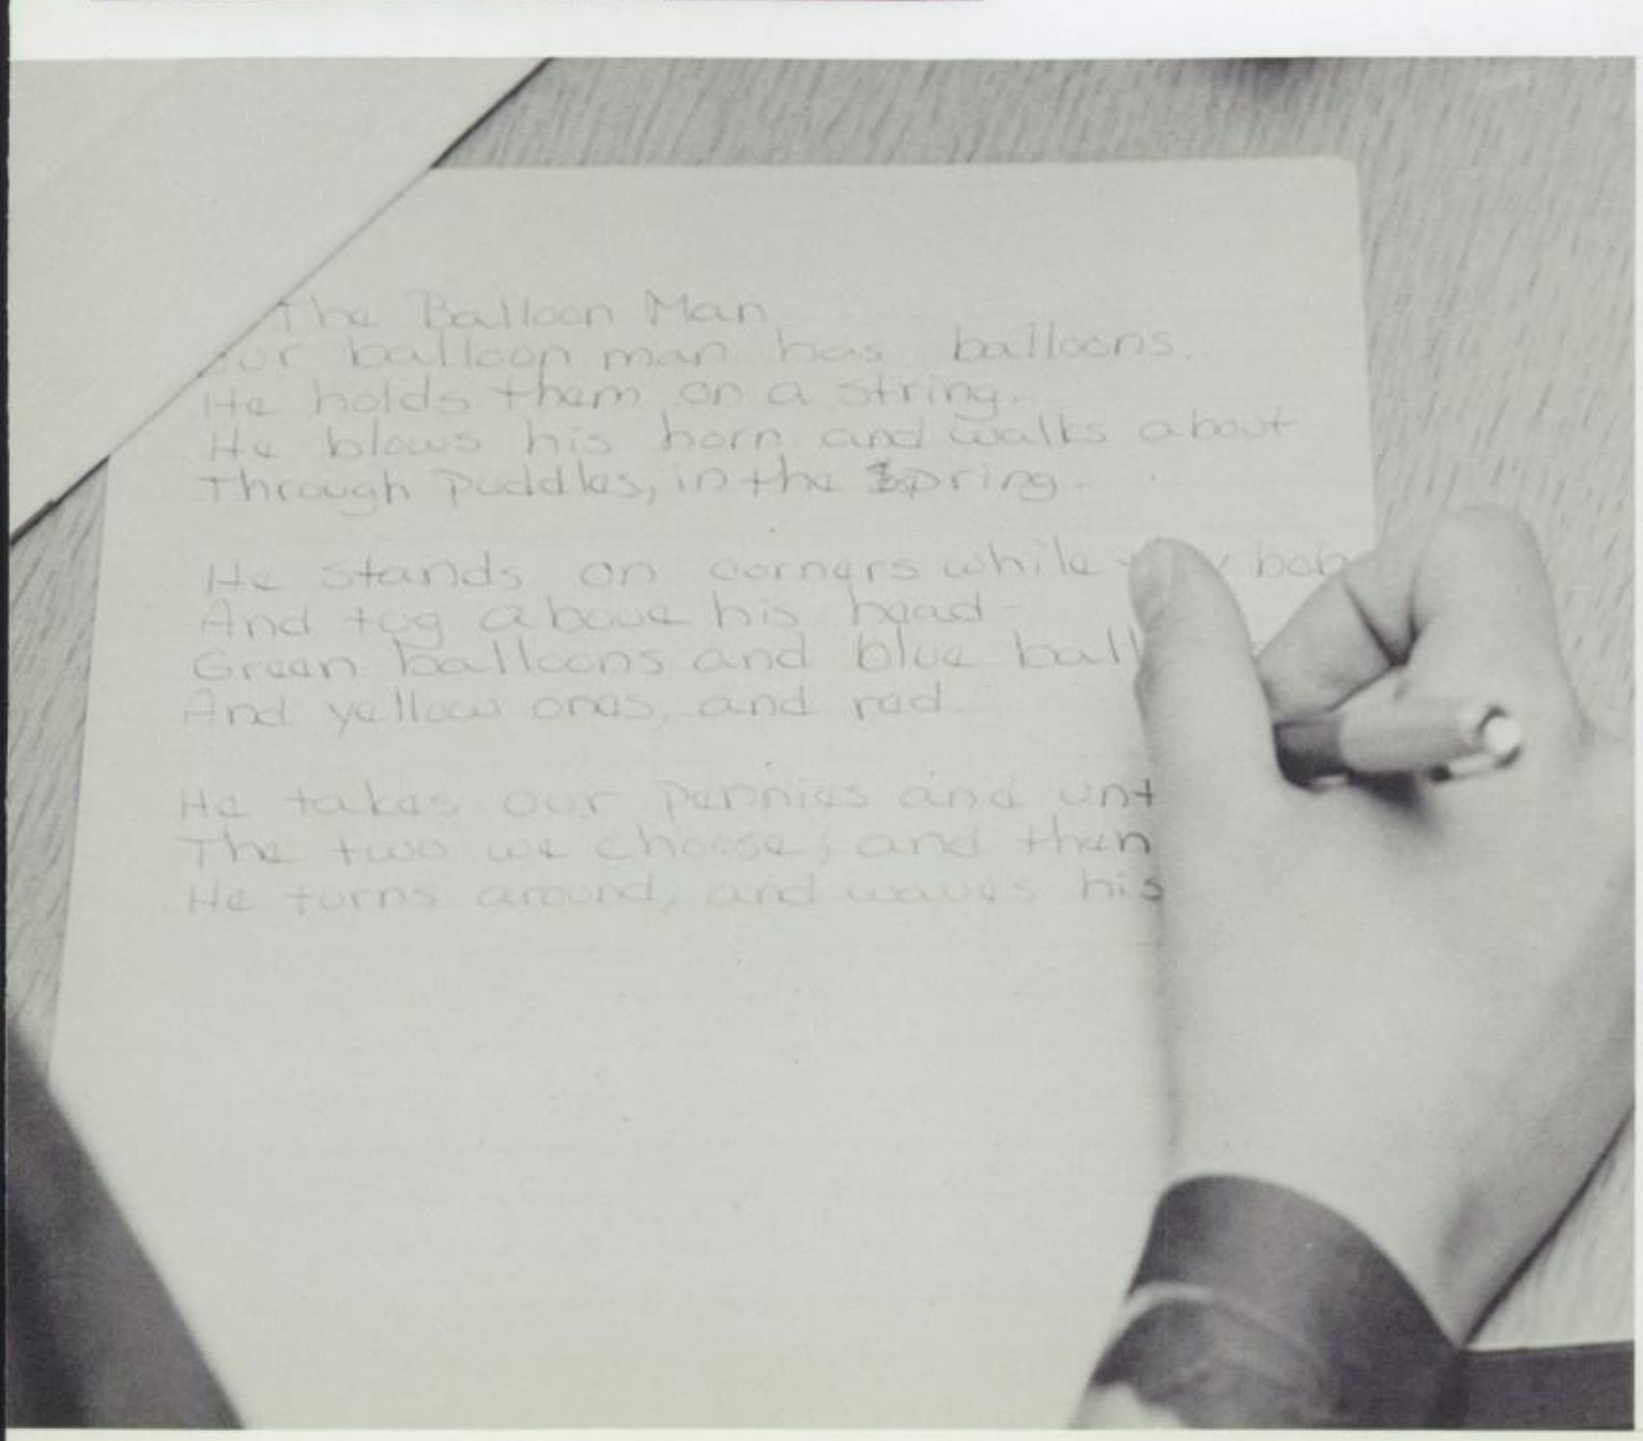
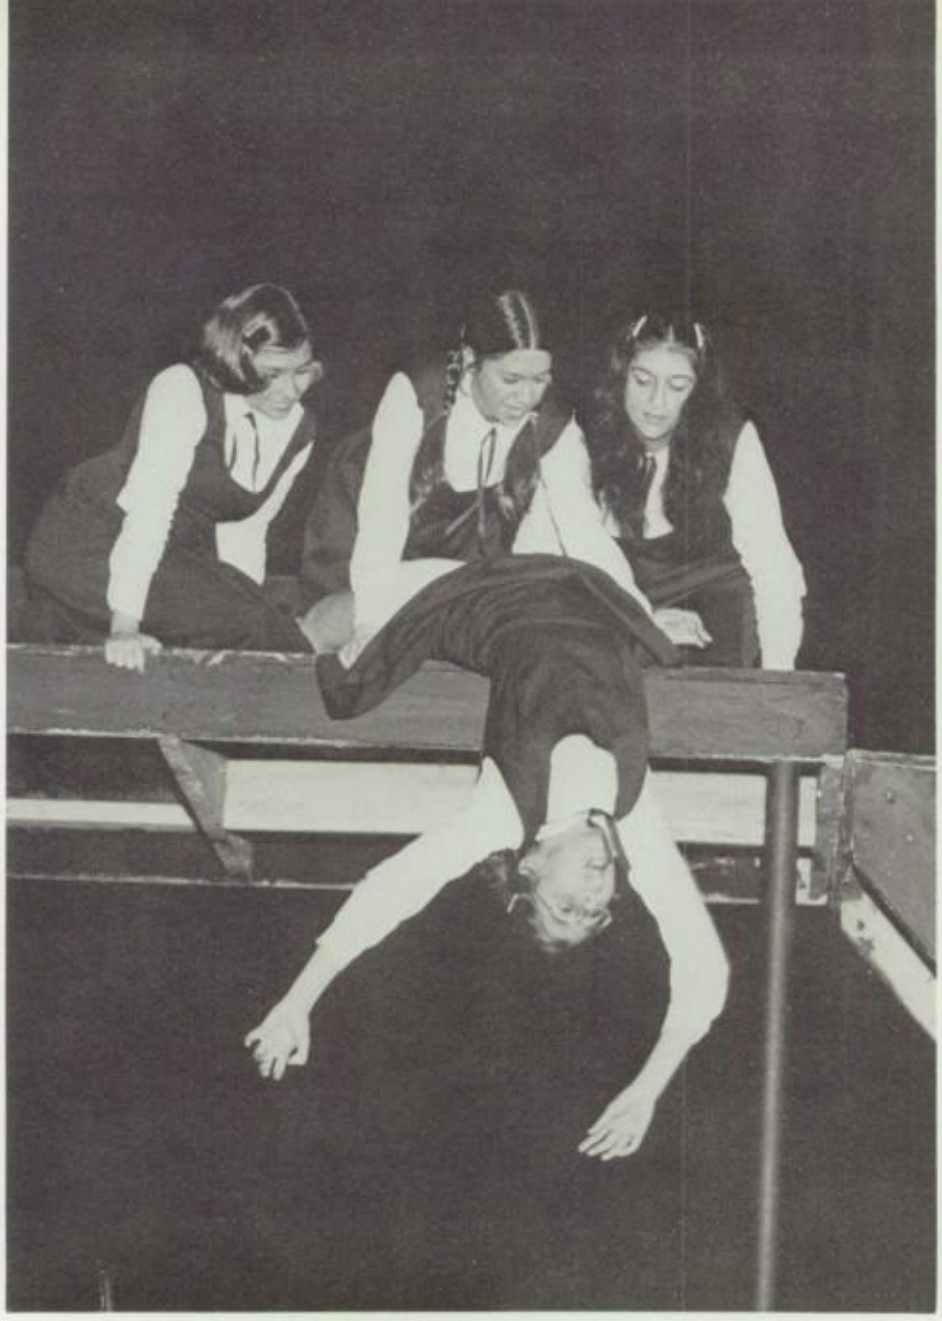
KAHLIL GIBRAN



The Balloon Man
Our balloon man has balloons.
He holds them on a string.
He blows his horn and walks about
Through puddles, in the Spring.
He stands on corners while
And tug about his head -
Green balloons and blue
And yellow ones, and red.
He takes our pennies and
The two we choose; and then
He turns around, and waves his

Acting means perfecting lines . . .



And taking chances

Props must be just so.

THE ENTERTAINERS

A good makeup person is a must.

Costuming a plus

The stage can be a lonely place . . .

And teamwork means everything.

The Concert Band and Stage Band members shared their instrumental music skills this school year with many audiences at Memorial Field, the Natick Common, the three junior highs, and at the high school.

Several players distinguished themselves in outside performing groups. Mark Greel and John Huling were in the highly-competitive Mass. Youth Wind Ensemble, and both students won first chairs in the exciting Northeastern District Stage Band. Mark, along with Stephanie Plummer, played in the Northeastern District Orchestra, and the following were selected to the Northeastern District Band: Ron Diamond, Tony Smith, Tom Huling, John Huling, and Ann Wright. In addition to his national recognition, John Huling performed as a soloist with the Reading Symphony, and at recitals and solo competitions across the state. John Huling received the MacDonalds All-American High School Band Award. He marched in the Rose Bowl Parade in Passadena on New Years' Day and in the Macy's Thanksgiving parade.

John Huling receives MacDonald's Award.

THE BIG BANDS

A subject which speaks for itself . . .

The Concert Band pays tribute to the season.

John, you shouldn't play, "You Deserve a Break Today" right in the middle of a chart!

Relax Maynard, Doc, Stan, Buddy — We'll be ready in a couple of years!!

RP8 and TTR, LP32, MT 16 . . . Can I have your autograph? Golly Gee — you sure can play high . . . tweet-tweet-tweet-tweet . . . Ready drums? er, Drums? . . . Make music, don't play just the notes! . . . Bulldog, Letter A . . . Whose refrigerator is in the closet? You've gotta be kidding! Your little brother used your music to stir his oatmeal? . . . Beth, you musn't swallow the whistle . . . Read the board . . . Heather, why did Linda end up with a slide clarinet part to Stars and Stripes? . . . No, you can't use the stereo at Aunt Gladys' anniversary party . . . No, I won't tell you what fern means . . . We miss you Kevin . . . If someone doesn't return that key real fast, . . . Tongue . . . Lots of people conduct with one arm . . . Greel, I must tell you that the BirdleBall victory was a gimmee . . . I really need that key . . . Ooooops . . .

"Ye shall have a song..."

This year the NHS vocal groups were as active out of school as well as in, thanks to Ms. Thomas and the strong leadership of officers Gary Elovitz, Linda Burgess and Bethany Palmer.

March saw the Concert Choir travel to UMass to attend a choral workshop consisting of performance and instructional material. In May, they again hopped on the bus, this time to perform for the Natick Rotary Club.

The Chamber Singers gave selected students the opportunity to develop their talent as members of a small ensemble.

Sounds of days gone by were heard in the school system this year as the Harmoneers, a student-run barbershop quartet, made many appearances.

Visions of America
Dan MacAlpine

America, a nameless name,
It tells of nothing from whence you came;
It tells of nothing of your fight
To preserve the things you thought were right;
The endless bleeding to save my fate,
From something we called Watergate.

Confused and torn in Vietnam,
The clashing issues of right and wrong,
Caused a storm which would not calm.
You protested and bombed Haiphong.
I stared at horror at Kent State,
Was sickened by Mailai.
I felt the terror and the hate;
I heard the painful cry.
You brought yourself to civil war,
The cause was plain to see.
Yet I sat and said "What for?"
It's easy with TV.

I remember Martin Luther and even RFK-
Somehow things'd be better if they were here today.
America, you violent fool (twisted in your rage)
You killed your only leaders and left a blood-stained page.
And all the pain and sacrafice-just what does it mean?
Pardon me, if I can't understand all the things I've seen.

Depression: Inflation: Air Stagnation;
I'm glad this isn't God's creation.
Eat this; don't read that.
I wonder where it is at?
There's something I just have to do,
I'm sorry I don't have time for you.
Money, money, buy it all;
Go out and have yourself a ball.
Where is it; what is real?
I've lost my touch; I cannot feel-
The pain, the joy, it's all lost.
Where is it? What is the cost?

"Where are they? Where are the Bruins?"
"But sir, the capital's in ruins."
"Oh my God, the Skins can't play,"
"I guess I'll have to watch Green Bay."
"I heard they shot the president"
"The black out rule-did he consent?"
"I've got to see my old Red Sox-
Quite a hitter-Jimmy Fox."
"But sir, I heard they pulled the trigger"
"Will it affect the point spread figure?"
"And does that mean I cannot see Evil jump on ABC?"

America, you're out of tune at times.
I do not see or understand
Your reasons and your rhymes.
Your song sure is not perfect,

And not what I expect.
But at least your song is singing freely-
It lives and breathes in me.

Knowing It Is Enough
Jill Storer

It's sad to think you're always alone
No matter where you are
It's sad to think that no matter how hard you run
You don't get very far
No feeling of belonging inside your soul
No feeling of capturing moments today
Just feelings of being lost in time
With nothing but you to pass away
Words that touch just part of me
Slowly float by and bow to the sky
Higher than I shall ever be
People ride by and I question why
Judged by those who think they're better than I
Facts misused by enemies of mine
Enemies who don't know the real being
Of one who was afraid to shine
Quietly I live my life
Scared off by words I could not say
Being put down for my beliefs
And ideas that refused to stay
Friends are few
But I worry not
As long as there's times
When I know what I've got

Experience
Nancy Venditti

When I was but a little imp
My father said to me,
That time was the almighty conquerer,
And that I would always be,
A little less knowing,
Than those born 'head of me;
For I'd never catch the experience,
They had come to see.

But I was just a little imp,
And listen I did not;
For until I got experience,
This knowledge I'd forgot.
And now that my dear grandfather
Has turned o'er to rot,
I shall now ingest my fathers words,
Deep into my thought.

Experience must be life's intellect,
Is all that I can lead,
For now that he is gone from us,
I feel a sort of greed;
Since he could distinguish life's growing flowers
From the nuisance weed;
And until I can do this,
I will not be freed.

Alone,
Or not alone,
I'm not lonely anymore
In a room filled with people
Who should be my friends,
Who must be my friends for me to survive, but
Who would not be my friends-
Until now.

No people here-but
A few too young,
A few too old,
A few too different,
A few not quite different enough
To wonder what I'm really about-
Until now.

Me,
A person devoid of persons-
With personality, but not the right type,
Personable, but not in the same way
As the others here, but not here
With me-
Until now.

Before I sat not alone,
But lonely;
Now I sit,
Silent,
Alone,
Or not alone;
And know that with you
(so many you's)
Even while I sit alone
I am not ugly anymore.

Until my destruction-
I will be with you
And you with me
And I am beautiful.

OLD DAYS

Old Days
good times I remember
Fun days
filled with simple pleasure
. . . Funny faces, full of love and laughter
Funny places . . . somehow nice . . .
Take me back, to a world
gone away
Memories — seem like yesterday
Dreams of magic, still so close to me
Old Days — in my mind and in my heart to stay

— Chicago

If there were a hundred years in which to change, Natick has done some real changing. However, some things do tend to stay basically the same.

Natick still keeps its Summer St. Central Fire Station in somewhat of the same appearance, with the same location and the same title.

The high school building did change quite drastically from the three floor house-like structure to the multi-million dollar structure which we all attended.

Baseball has come a long way.

As for sports, the baseball team kept almost the same appearance with very little change in the uniforms. The length of hair seemed to be the only noticable change.

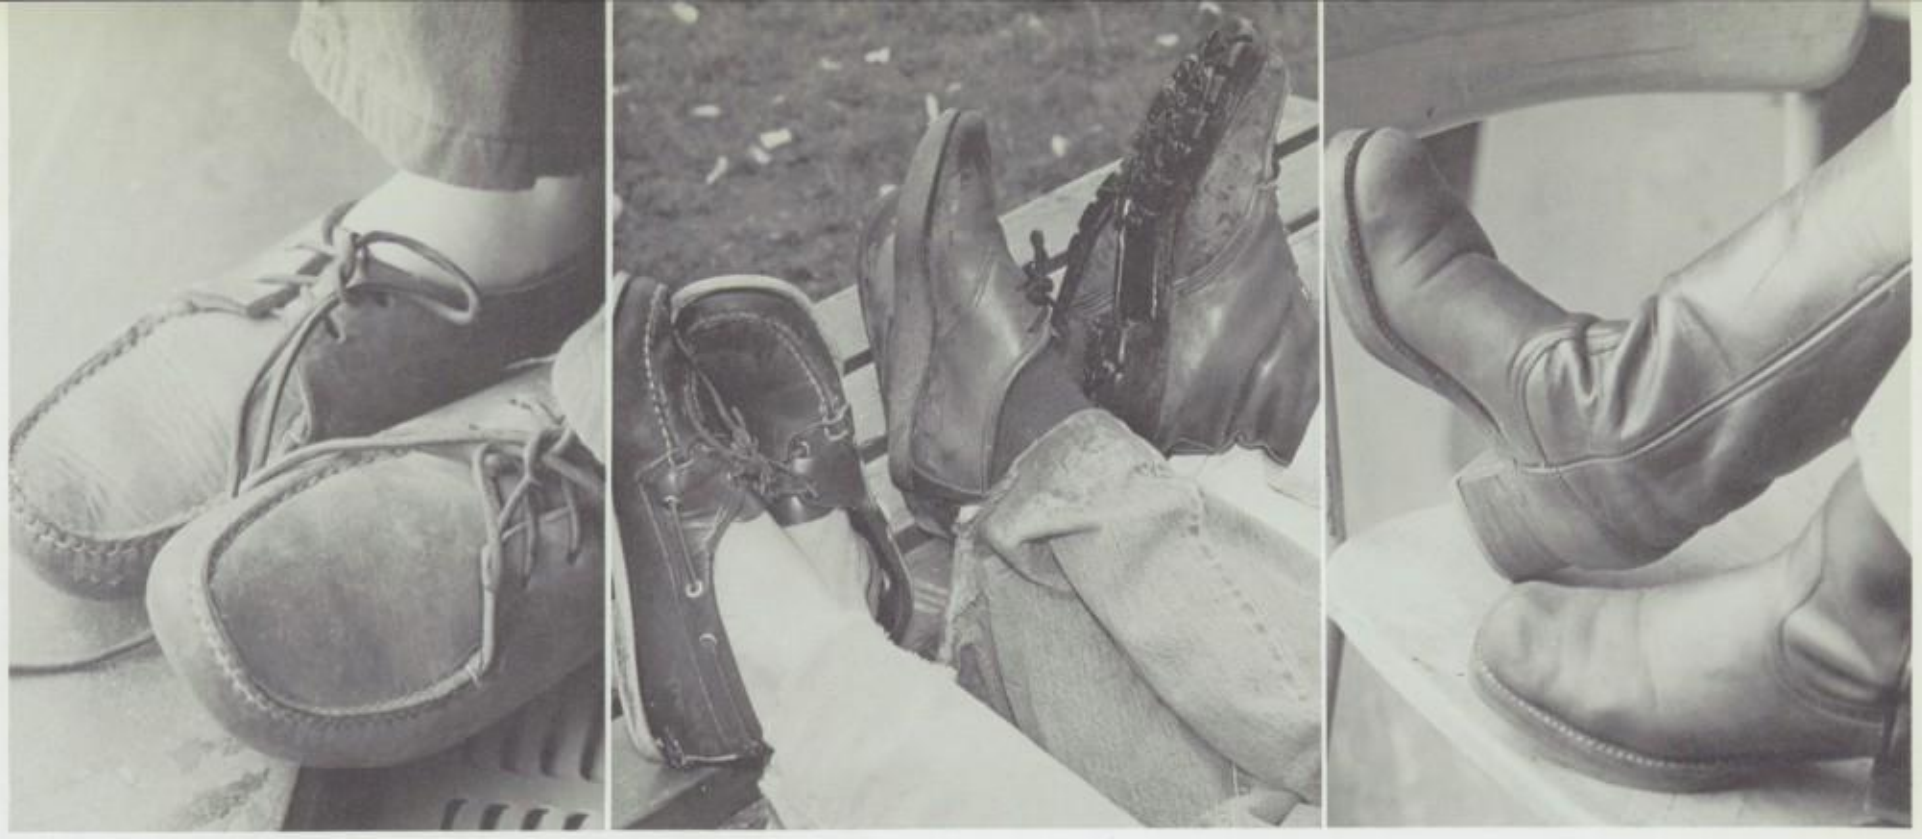
We've got hair! Most of the guys decided to keep theirs long and straggly or long and thick. The girls did their own thing, however. Some went to the extreme of cutting most of it off, while others let it all hang down.

There is the electric shock look.

And hair hair everywhere.

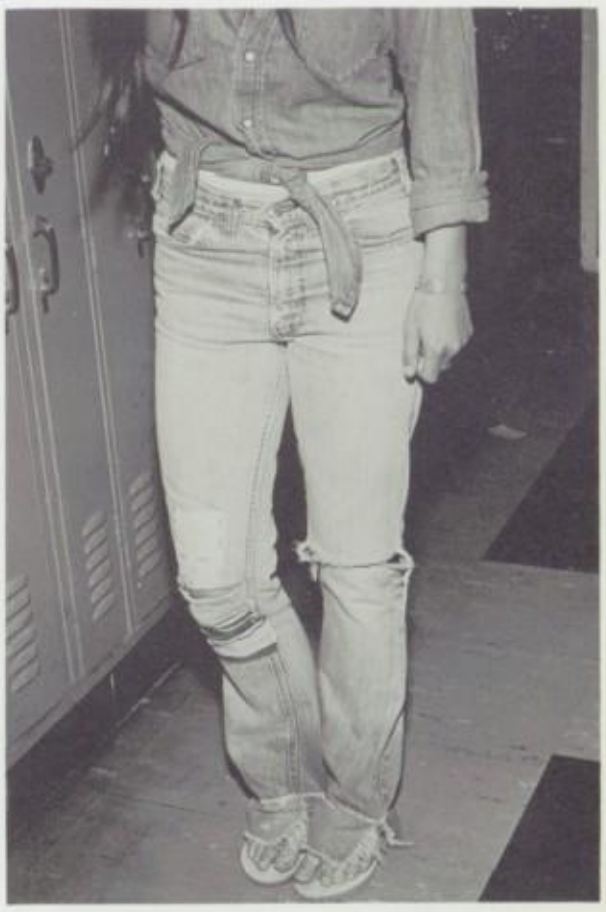
Short styles were alive too!

The long and silky look.



Shoe styles: comfortable, different, and individualistic.

Midlength skirts were popular in '76.



But comfort was most important.

Fashions and fads were the topic of 1976. Everyone was different, with the extremes being Tony Smith and his tuxedo and the track team with their "Big Red Turkey" shirts. Also don't forget the clergical looks of Bob White (fall of 1974) and Mark Farrington (fall of 1975). This was the year of the individual.

Painter's pants were probably the most "in thing" during 1976.

There were always the places to go and the things to see. Here was our work and our play. Don't ever forget those groups we listened to and the songs we sang. It was all a part of those good "Old Days".

Natick girls on the move!

VARSITY First row: Coach Maloney, J. Child, T. Cotter, S. LaRoche, Co-Captain J. Cope, Co-Captain J. Boyle, B. Dininio, S. Balcom, S. Lockwood. Second row: Manager K. Borghi, Manager D. Blume, J. Murphy, J. Pollak, L. Goldrich, C. Naranjo, S. Chaisson, A. Rahman, K. McGillvary.

J.V. First row: D. Gaarity, K. Dutcher, Co-Captain D. Gorman, Co-Captain P. Weber, D. Myrick, J. Valentine. Second row: Coach Donna McCabe, S. Sequin, R. Gorman, D. Marchetti, M. Cassidy, M. DeMassi, J. Murphy, K. Abrams, D. Cope, L. Wiles.

The '76 field hockey team posted a respectable 2-3-9 record. The team's hopes were not high at the start of the season since there were only three returning varsity players. Outstanding performances by the two captains boosted the squad. Co-Captain Jane Boyle led the offense and Co-Captain Janet Cope, the defense.

The season was full of excitement despite a slow start. Natick's big morale booster was tying league-leading Framingham South 1-1. The highlights of the season were victories over Milton (2-1) and Needham (3-1). Wellesley was also tied, knocking them out of first place.

The J.V. team was led by Co-Captains Debby Gorman and Paula Weber. They learned to work as a team and progressed rapidly during the season. They should be a great help to next year's varsity squad. Good luck!

BEAT THE CLOCK

This years Cross Country team finished with an excellent record of seven wins and two losses, capturing third place in the Bay State League.

The harriers, coached by Al Kirton, had twenty-three members on the varsity and junior varsity squads, which made the largest teams in a number of years.

Co-Captains Robert Healey and Daniel MacAlpine did an outstanding job of providing the leadership and spirit throughout the season.

Dan MacAlpine, winner of the Most Valuable-Player Award, highlighted this season with his third place finish in the League Conference Meet; and then again with a tremendous third-place finish in the Class A State Meet.

The varsity squad, "junior ridden" this year, will only be losing two seniors. They are looking forward to another fine season.

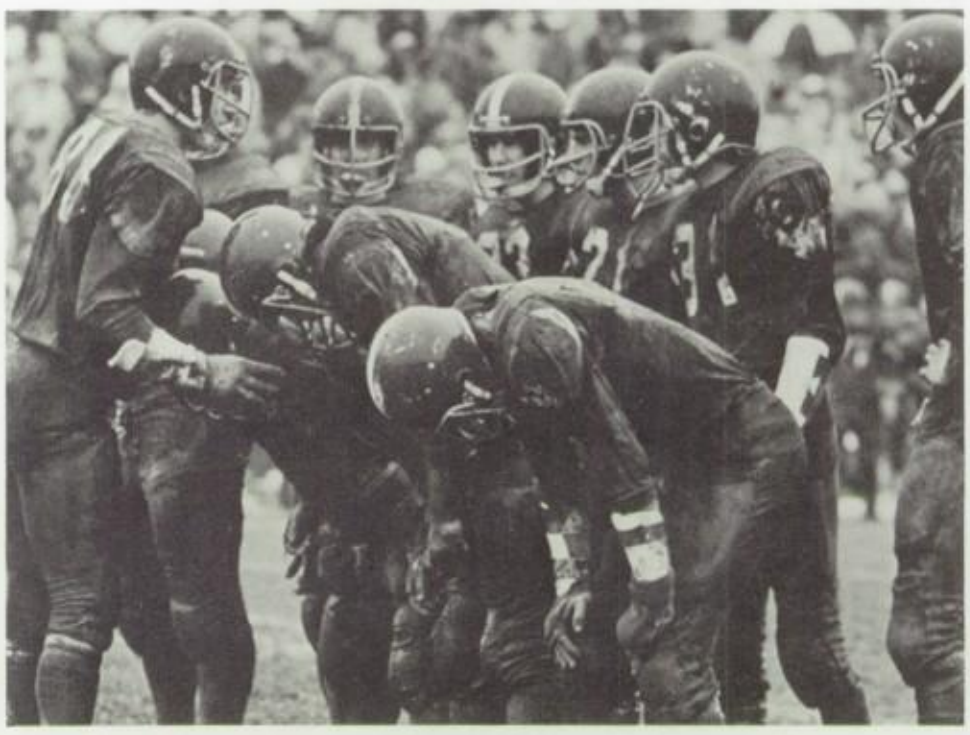
The second year of the dynasty started with high hopes. Co-Captains Jeff Dziama and Rick LaChance had both the varsity and the junior varsity squads working out in late July, preparing for the coming season. Pre-season injuries were at an all time high. This had a great effect on the final record.

The season had its highlights and disappointments, as do all sports. A big game, Brocton vs. Natick, was first in a string of tough battles. But, as the season progressed, the bumps and grinds became a burden to the team.

By the end of the season, the high hopes had become impossible dreams. Even the hard work of the players and coaches couldn't help the re-occuring injuries. As the 4-5 record shows, it was a tough season.



It all came out in the wash.

Taking a break on the sidelines

Coach Cioffi and Captain Dave Scott knew that they would have to hustle until they dropped if the team was going to have a winning season.

While the players were hustling, the season was slowly being eaten away. By the end of the season, the team's record was 0-18. That record does not really reflect what went on during the season.

If there is one thing that this year's varsity team gained, it is experience. It is easy to be a winner but it takes a lot of gusto to be on the short end of the stick and this team had plenty of gusto.

In their first year of varsity competition, the Girls' Swim Team, led by Co-Captains Sue Ehrlich and Carolyn Grassey, compiled an impressive 3-3 record. The team was guided by Coach Dave Webb. The girls had to overcome such obstacles as buying their own swimsuits and practicing a scant two hours a week.

The highlight of the season was a one point victory over archrival Wellesley. The meet was won in the final exciting relay. The team also placed in the top three in the Bay State League at the State Meet in Springfield. Sue Ehrlich captured the Most Valuable Player honors, while Jean Burke was voted the Most Improved Swimmer. Next year's co-captains are Sue Ehrlich and Jean Crisafulli.

SPIRIT

Spirit's up — no matter what the weather.

Jean Beliveau leads a cheer.

The 1975-76 squad, captained by Sue Breen put in a lot of hard, long hours in support of many athletic teams. It was definitely worth it.

Working as a squad, they had a lot of fun together doing such things as decorating the boys' locker room, holding rallies in school and on the Natick Common, and many other activities that psyched-out the various teams.

Throughout the summer months and every day after school until March, the cheerleaders practiced. Their efforts all paid off when they captured third place in the Bay State League Cheerleading Competition.

RIFLE SQUAD: S. Furey, S. Spencer, M. Cormier, M. Lalonde, C. Cormier

A lot of credit for the development of the NHS Rifle Squad must go to Michelle Cormier, Cathie Cormier and Margaret LaLonde. Working on their own, with every member contributing her ideas and efforts, the girls built up the Rifle Squad to what it is today. The six-person squad practiced many long hours to perfect the complicated routines enjoyed at all the football games.

Molly Walters reaches high over an opponent.

The girls' basketball team finished the season with a 2-16 record. This, however, does not reflect the excitement generated during some of the games. Four games were lost by four points and only during the final moments of play. In addition, three of these games were lost to teams tied for first place in the league.

This year's team was led by Captain Molly Walters who has always been an outstanding player for NHS. Molly, receiver of the MVP award, was elected by the Bay State League coaches to the All-Star team for the second year in a row. This was a great accomplishment as it is extremely rare for juniors to be selected for an All-Star team.

Janet Forance also had a good year. Janet received the award given to the most improved player. She and Carol Naranjo are slated to be next year's co-captains.

'76 was a big year for the girls. They now have equal time in the gym and have an equal eighteen-game schedule. Next year, games will be held on Friday nights which will enable more fans and parents to attend. The gains have been a long time coming.

While basketball has been one of the more highly enjoyed sports of Natick High's history, it seems evident that it will remain that way for many years to come.

Although the basketball season was not as successful as the preceding one, it was apparent that the players competed with more heart than in previous years. Due to the efforts of Coach Cristie, Assistant Coach Connolly, and Captain Rich Zachilli; the team was kept in high spirits and always ready to play.

The team's record this year was 10-10. But, if you look deeper into the season, you will notice that they lost but a few by a wide margin. When they won, they won by a rout.

This year's team had only a few returning players which hurt in experience but not in talent. Next year's team will encounter the same problem. However, many other League teams will be in the same situation, so next year should be a good one.

THOSE DARING YOUNG MEN

The NHS boys' gymnastics team was one of the most improved varsity teams of the year. Under the guidance of Bob Theriaque, the team established itself as a prominent winter sport and a serious contender for the Bay State League title.

Predicted to go nowhere in the Bay State League, the boys' gymnastics team amazed everybody as they began the season with four consecutive wins. Next came Braintree, Milton, and Framingham North, all champion teams or highly rated statewide; the Natick gymnasts lost all three but maintained a much closer margin of points than in past years. Natick then won several events against Norwood and Wayland, but was defeated overall. The Redmen ended their season with a superb victory over Framingham South, and wound up with a 5-5 record.

Much of the credit for their success must go to the placing senior competitors: Rick Gorman (Captain) on all-around, Neil Wright on floor and long horse, Mike Vene on parallel bars and high bar, Steve Marchetti on side horse, Dom Tolson as unlimited, and Don Nason on side horse. Also, all other seniors, juniors and sophomores, whether they competed or not, deserve recognition for their constant efforts.

Julie Child

This season was a super one! Jane and Cindy did a great job as Co-Captains. They were responsible for urging everyone to get in shape and for keeping the team spirit up.

Four seniors and six juniors returned to the team. Their experience contributed to the great achievements of this season.

NHS was fortunate in the addition of two talented sophomores to the gymnastics team. One of these sophomores, Chris Paul, was voted the MVG of the team. Chris, an outstanding gymnast, had the highest total of points for the season. She represented NHS at the state meet. Chris placed second in Massachusetts as a all-around gymnast.

The team's record was 7-2. The girls placed second in the Bay State League.

In Coach Bill Lacouture's first year at the helm of N.H.S. Hockey, the Redmen varsity compiled a much improved 8-9-1 record in the Bay State League. Led by captain Paul Quaranto, the boys combined strenuous fall workouts with a unique variety of practice hours to try to combat a definite lack of varsity experience returning from the previous year's squad. Throughout all these preliminary workouts and the regular season the attitude and spirit of the team was outstanding.

In the regular season the club battled the top teams in the league all year, with tough losses being handed to them by Norwood (2-1), Dedham (5-4), and archrival Framingham South and Walpole each bowing once.

Head Coach Lacouture was complemented by two other outstanding coaches throughout the year. Carl Bates, Assistant varsity coach and head J.V. coach, worked hard along with assistant varsity coach Jim McKeon, both of them showing a true desire to help NHS hockey.

For honors, the team sent Paul Quaranto and Brad Richards to the All-Star game. Quaranto, a true leader, captured the M.V.P. award with high-scoring Richards copping the Unsung Hero Trophy.

The Junior Varsity, coached by Carl Bates and led by star forwards Paul Rothwell and Steve Intinarelli, chalked up a 13-5 slate.

With a wealth of varsity experience returning, the future looks bright indeed for NHS hockey.

The Natick High Indoor Track Team ended a successful season with a record of 6-3, led by Co-Captains Brian Fitzpatrick and Danny Donovan. Natick placed third in the competitive Bay State League, but with such a record that they could have placed second in any other league. Dan Donovan and Brian Fitzpatrick were outstanding in representing Natick in state competition. Also competing were Gary Rogers, Phil Wright, Bob Healy, Steve Miller and Dan MacAlpine.

Eleven of the forty-three team members will be graduating but the team is well molded and has the experience to go far next year. Many thanks to Coaches Don Burnham and Tom Lamb.

The 1975-76 Boys' Swim Team led by Captain Fred Grossman compiled a 3-3 record in the Bay State League and a 4-6 mark overall. Coached by Mr. Laughlin, the team chalked up victories against Dedham, Needham, Norwood, and New Bedford. Both the veteran swimmers and the new swimmers worked hard all season. As fruits of their labor, the team sent six boys to the Eastern Massachusetts Swimming and Diving Championships while sending Jim Pierce, Jim Arena, Paul Gallagher, Al Goodwin, and John Crisafulli to the State Championships. For individual honors, John Crisafulli captured the MVP award with the Coach's Trophy going to Al Goodwin and Jim Pierce. John Crisafulli will captain next year's team.

This year's team, with a record of 2-9, was hampered somewhat by a lack of experience, however, the entire team worked hard and can be proud of their effors.

Junior captain Paul Ryder was able to gain a fourth place in the regional tournament which enabled him to compete in the state tourney at Chelmsford.

With nine starters and a group of experienced JV's returning, next year's team should be a fine one.

The NHS varsity baseball team recorded a hard-earned 15-7 record for the 1976 season. With only a few varsity letter winners returning from the previous year, the team record and the fact that they made the state tournament, for the first time in several years, shows just how hard the boys worked. A lot of credit, however, should be given to Coaches John Carroll and Bob Ghilani for the fine coaching job they performed throughout the season. Thanks should also be given to Bill Lacouture for all his help during tryouts and practice sessions.

After a trip to the Naval Academy in Maryland, the team started the season with a bang, winning their first five games before losing to Walpole. The Redmen clinched a tournament berth by beating Wellesley in the second to last game of the season. The tourney was a short one for the Redmen, however, as they were eliminated by Tauton 1-0 in the first round.

For honors, the team sent Captain Jimmy Allen, Jeff Dziama and Joe Kane to the Bay State League All-Sar Game. Allen, the peerless three-year veteran, was a wizard behind the plate and opposing teams rarely recorded a stolen base against him. Jeff Dziama was a human scoop at first base and batted over .300. Senior right-hander Joe Kane, the MVP, was the ace of the mound staff.

The golf team began its season in March with practices at the Natick Country Club. Hard-working Captain Andy Berman and Coach O'Connor prepared the team to face competition in the tough Bay State League.

The team began the year with high hopes. However, those hopes ended in shattered dreams as the season closed with a 2-7 record.

Coach O'Connor described this year as a building year. Next spring will see the return of this year's underclassmen who have now had a season of experience under their belts. The '77 team, which shows a great deal of promise, will be captained by Mike Murphy. However, the Country Club will not be available for the team's use.

NOT FOR SOFTIES

The girls' softball team, led by Co-Captains Sara Lockwood and Carol Naranjo finished second in the Bay State League with a 12-6 record. The team had many setbacks. Usually the most difficult one to overcome is one of inexperience. But the three sophomores in the starting varsity lineup performed with excellence and inexperience was the easiest hurdle to jump. Junior Carol Naranjo was the teams M.V.P., an honor she really deserved.

The 1976 varsity tennis team, coached by Mr. Crow, compiled a respectable 9-9 slate for the season. The record is misleading in that seven of their nine losses were handed to them by a 3-2 score. The record shows only that they played .500 tennis. Two satisfying matches were played against Braintree. Here, the Redmen came back in the final stages of the matches to pull out the victories.

The team was led by Co-Captain and three-year veteran Bruce Rockowitz who recorded a personal record of 15-3. Bruce, winner of the MVP award for the last two seasons, was selected for the league all-star team. Other fine individual performances came from Joe Barrett and Co-Captain Joe McDermott.

Next year's team will be captained by juniors Bob Wells and Greg Hennrikus. Coach Crow is looking for players from Coach MacGregor's fine JV team to provide a solid nucleus for the future.

A record-setting year was won by the girls' tennis team. This year the girls established the new NHS record for the most wins in a season, finishing in a tie for fourth place in the Bay State League and earning a record of 8-10.

Co-Captain Cheryl Oldfield won a place on the Bay State League All-Star Team. Janet Cope, also a co-captain, was voted the Most Valuable Player.

The last meet of the year was the most crucial. The girls faced Framingham South who had beated them 3-2 earlier in the season. This time the tables were turned, and the NHS team won by a score of 3-2. This put the team in a tie with Framingham South for fourth place in the league. The elated girls then rewarded Coach Linsky with a dunk in Dug Pond!

ON THE RUN

The girls' track team, in only their second season of existence came up with the best record of any sport at Natick High during the 1975-76 campaign. Led by Captain Patty Devereaux the girls compiled an amazing 8-1 record with their only loss coming at the hands of state champion Dedham. New school records were set by Patti Cloonan in the hurdles, Captain-elect Sue Ehrlich in the 440, Luanne Dupree in the half mile, Patti Moores, in the mile; and Ivy Calendar cleaned up with records in the shot put, 440 relay, and medley relay. League records were set by Leslie Dale in the long jump and Patti Moores in the two mile.

BIG RED RUNAROUND

The track team, despite many crippling injuries and disciplinary actions, put together a very respectable record of five wins and four losses in the Bay State League. Lead by Tri-Captains Miller, Cavanaugh, and MacAlpine, the team resorted to their pride to pull out some very tough meets. 1976 was also the last year for Coach Barnicle who retires with the highest winning percentage of any coach in Natick High history. Next year's team can look forward to continued success, no matter who the coach may be.

Have you ever competed in a sport at Natick High School? If not you've missed both the good and the bad aspects of an athletic background during your three years here.

Natick probably has the finest sports program in the Bay State League. But let's forget the sometimes monotonus practice schedule for a moment and look at the other side of an N.H.S. athlete, where the battles of the athletic fields are miles, and a few periods, away. This is dedicated to all of the participants of the N.H.S. athletic program. THE PRIME OF MISS JEAN BRODIE

I am a teacher, first, last, and always.

The Brodie Set: Little girls not yet in their prime.

The Class of '76 selected "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" for its class play. This witty and intelligently written novel by Muriel Spark was the perfect vehicle for bringing out the acting abilities of the seniors.

Lisa Troy was superb in her portrayal of Miss Jean Brodie. This was a difficult role as Miss Brodie's personality was very intricate.

Donna Vecchione was also recognized for her outstanding performance. She played the role of the sensitive schoolgirl, Sandy.

Other members of the cast included Connie Rauschen as the regimental schoolmistress, Miss MacKay; Don Gooding as the gentle Scotsman, Mr. Lowther; Tony Smith as the dashing Teddy Lloyd and Ruth Neuman and Nancy Bivin as part of the Brodie set. Carol Kippes performed the role of MMMary MMMacGregor, Andy Smith, Leslie Forsythe, Diane Menge, Andrea Jannoni, Gary Elovitz, Jane Finfrock, Phil Young and the Chamber Singers also added to the mood of the evening. The success of the event must also be credited to the strong directing of Mr. Gerald Dyer.

On February 12, a fully-staged production of Kurt Weill's American folk opera, "Down in the Valley", was presented by the Concert Choir and directed by Mr. Dyer and Ms. Thomas. With music developed from American folk themes, the story, set in places with names like "Birmingham Jail" and "Shadow Creek", told of a hero, heroine and villain, and what happened when their lives intertwined for a short time in that valley so low.

Leading roles were played by Lisa Troy as Jennie Parsons; Jon Rosenkranz as Brack Weaver; Gary Elovitz as the Leader; Brian Higgins as Thomas Bouche, the villain; Don Gooding as Jennie's father and Mark Greel as the Preacher. Other roles were played by Tony Smith, Frank Dixon, Neil Wright, Lisa Penchuck, Barbara Siegel, and Connie Rauschen. Jeanne Golan assisted with the piano accompaniment and the entire Concert Choir was the chorus of townspeople.

Cotillion

The New England weather is not to be trusted. The Winter Cotillion, sponsored by the senior class was planned precisely to insure a good time. Unfortunately, the inclement weather, forced the date to be postponed from December 22 to February 27, too late for Valentine's Day and much to late for Christmas!

With the support of our class officers and advisors, the Cotillion was held and that long-awaited good time was had by all. The evening was filled with laughter and the music of Jack Hahn's band.

What happens in the end? Dolly gets her man, of course, and ever makes him glad she caught him. As she says to the audience, "Money, pardon the expression, is like manure. It's not worth a thing unless it's spread around encouraging young things to grow."

And she does.

On April 2, the Student Council and the Senior Class sponsored the Second Annual Natick High School Red Cross Bloodmobile. Due largely to the efforts of Paul McGillivray, it was a great success. Approximately forty students worked at the Bloodmobile helping with registration, taking temperatures, keeping donars comfortable, and dispensing cookies and drinks.

After all was said and done, 102 pints were collected to be put to use saving lives. Great credit should go to all who donated their blood and their time to this project.

PICNIC

Senior week started out with a bang and a boom and a clap of thunder as the senior picnic was held inside. It was unfortunate because it was the only event scheduled outside. Everyone tried to make the most of the picnic even though frisbees and skateboards were prohibited. Although the ground was dampened, the spirit of the seniors wasn't. The Senior Class Banquet was one that we will always remember. Dressed in semi-formal attire, the seniors displayed the emotion that was the spirit of '76.

The evening was enlivened by several events and presentations. Vicki Karian and Steve Marchetti shared the job of reading the class will. Greg Lakis dedicated the yearbook to a very surprised and excited Mr. Holbrook. Gifts were presented to our class advisors, Mrs. Panchuck and Mr. Bates.

The night was filled with entertainment. Eddie Jacobs performed his professional juggling act. The highlight of the evening was the hypnotist. People such as Molly "Reed" Walters, Rick Byrne and Don Gooding gave a performance that should have earned them all Academy Awards.

This is excitement!

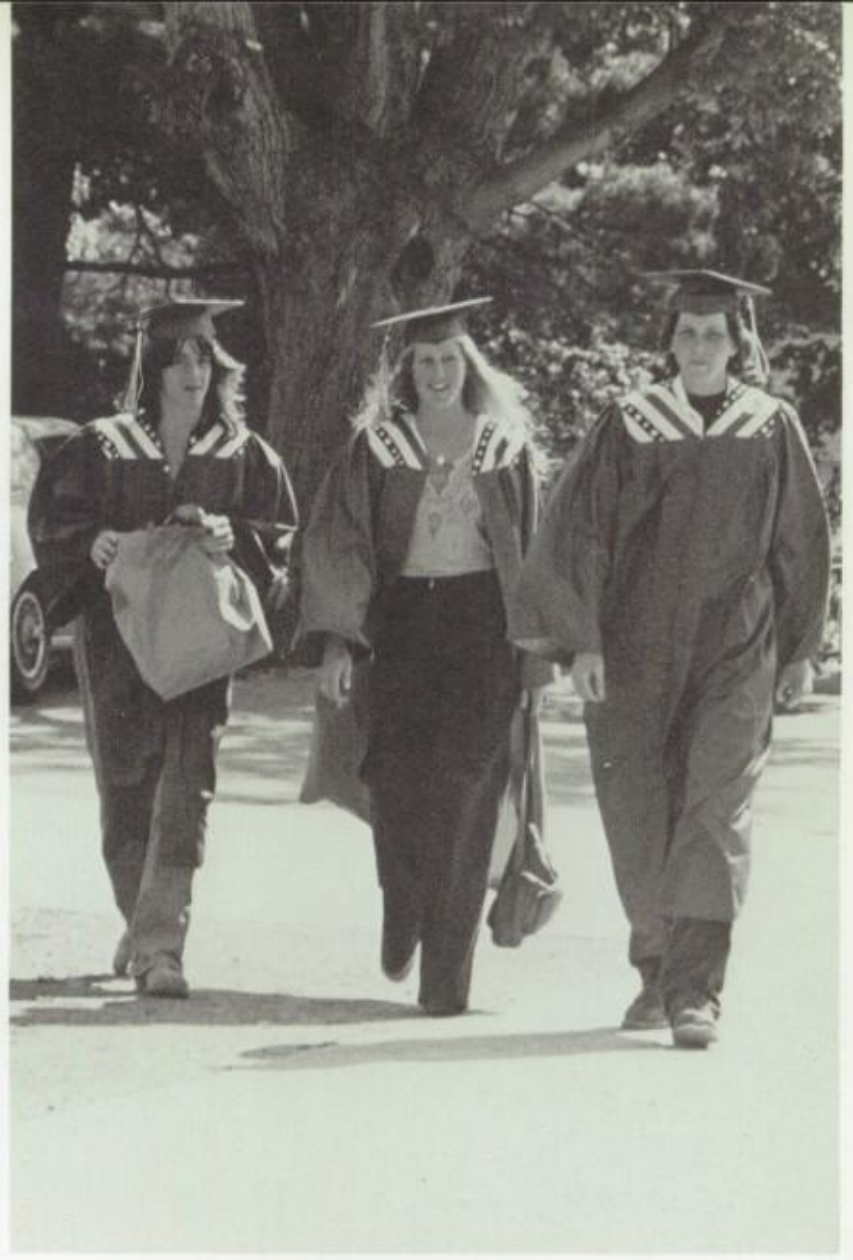
LIBERATION

Mr. Rosen chats with Nancy Durkin, Missy Fleming and Brian Fitzgerald before the ceremonies.



The beginning of the end.

Graduation Day, 1976, was a day we had waited a long time for. With frisbees flying and firecrackers exploding, each member of the Class of '76 approached the stage to receive his diploma.

It was a time for both sadness and joy; sadness, because the class might never be together again, and joy, knowing that we did something for our parents and ourselves. Our school years and Graduation Day will be moments that we will treasure for the rest of our lives.

"There's a time for joy, a time for tears, a time we'll treasure throughout the years. We'll remember always, Graduation Day."

— Joe and Noel Sherman

Paul Chaet

THE SPEAKERS

LIBERATION: THE INDIVIDUAL

We should take the time to listen. Not just hear words, but listen. Listen to the meaning behind the words. Listen as equals, as individuals. We should take the time to accept ourselves and others. Accept ourselves for what we are. Accept others for what they are. If we take the time to listen and to accept, we can liberate the individual from the stereotypes of society and from the anonymity and the fast pace which cause these stereotypes. Take the time. Accept me. I will accept you. You and I, together we can be individuals.

— Richard Rogers

LIBERATION: THE GROUP

The existence of seperate groups does not of itself cause difficulties — it is the attitude of group members to members of other groups which is the problem.

Despite individual differences of heredity or preference which cause us to belong to different groups, we should all remember that we are all members of one group, humanity, and that each of us has something to add to that group's success. If we can succeed in liberating the group from the groups, in ending the subordination of human values and purposes to the less important and sometimes inhuman goals of smaller groups, we will have achieved a most vital step in the full development of human potential, in the liberation of all mankind.

— Steven Kruger

LIBERATION: THE MIND

I read on the tag of a Salada tea bag once, "Minds are like parachutes, they function only when open." And it's true. If you close your mind to the world around you, you cannot expect to make it as a complete person. So many times I had heard people cut someone else down because of a difference of opinions. That is pointless! Why not allow that person to think the way he wishes? Hopefully, that person will do the same for you. Your mind is yours, for this life time only. You live your way, I will live mine, but let's keep an open mind for each other.

During the years ahead, you will encounter people of all sorts. And chances are, everyone will have a unique point of view. "To each his own," as the saying goes. "That's cool." People should have their own peace of mind. So why not let it go at that? Try to always listen to what the other guy has to say, you are bound to gain something.

— Liz Chamberlain

CLASS HISTORY

Three short years ago we first entered this school, unsure of who we were, and even more unsure of who we would become. We wandered around lost for a few days buying dozens of discount elevator tickets, but never finding out where the elevator was; hearing that Mr. Sticklor was a former Statey who knew Sing Ming Ding, the ultimate in martial arts; learning that the cafeteria ladies were required by law to put the vegetables on your plate; discovering that the A-wing was the place for all kinds of smoking. Gradually, we began to settle down, and by Christmas almost everyone knew that "inside suspension" was not a term used in building.

In our Sophomore year, we elected Debbie Fallon, President; Ricky Griffey, Vice President; Michelle Molan, Secretary and Lynne Johnston, Treasurer. The next year, our elected leaders were Holly Brown, Treasurer; Ronna Alintuck, Secretary; Steve Marchetti, Vice-President; and Natick's Napoleon, Debbie Fallon, President once again. As our junior year went by, Nixon resigned, the economy slumped, Southeast Asia fell to the Communists, and our class re-elected Debbie, Steve and Holly, and chose Kathy Hooley to be Secretary for our senior year. Seriously, without them or our class advisors, Mrs. Panchuck and Mr. Bates, our senior year couldn't have been as enjoyable as it has been. We'd like to take this time to thank them for all their time and effort.

The Class of '76 would also like to thank Mr. Sticklor and Miss Ciannave for their cheerful participation in the Bicentennial Pie Eating Contest. Results are incomplete, however, because one unknowing contestant is still at large.

The class officers helped to make our class activities enjoyable. Our Junior Prom "The Long and Winding Road", was the first to which the school committee was not invited. Coincidentally, it was probably the most successful prom in the history of the high school. However, the Winter Cotillion in our senior year went over like iced tea in January. Although the turnout was good, it lacked the festive mood — probably because it was more than a month after Christmas due to the pre-Christmas blizzard.

Mr. Harold Rosen was chosen to succeed Howard Hennigar as principal in the fall of our sophomore year. We were the first class to have Mr. Rosen for three years. Working with our class leaders, he helped to make our three years ones of change.

One of the first major changes was the use of arena scheduling (which, incidentally, is NOT named after the secretary of the guidance office). In this program, students could elect courses, teachers, and even time slots — if they were lucky. The catch was that students were thrown into the gym to bite, scratch and kick fellow students in the competition for computer course cards. It was like the Roman arena was for the Christians, with lions named Colombo ("You can't drop a lab") and gladiators named Bransfield ("There aren't any more cards for that period"). Most survived, and how this experience was viewed by students depended greatly on where they were in the draw. The first to enter the arena were generally pleased with their schedules, but lower in the draw, there were more complaints about not being able to get a decent schedule. Many who got the bottom of the barrel had a lot of hassles and still didn't end up with schedules acceptable in their own eyes.

In our junior year, "inside suspension" a cruel and highly unusual punishment, was taken off the administration's list of nasty things to do to naughty students. It was eventually replaced with supervised study, and occasionally, outside suspension. The Student Council and Executive Board switched to a non-elected, open membership, so students who wanted to do the work could, and those who didn't wouldn't get the credit.

During that year, Open Council created "Mr. Spirit". In this game, designed to boost school spirit, a "Mr. Spirit" would be secretly picked before each football game. Then, students would try to guess who it was by asking everyone they saw, "Are you Mr. Spirit?" The one who found "Mr. Spirit" would receive two tickets to the football game. "Mr. Spirit" survived through our senior year, but we're afraid the administration may soon have to break this fine tradition because of the incredible din of two thousand students enthusiastically shouting, "Are you Mr. Spirit?" all day.

Open Council soon made up for "Mr. Spirit's" birth. On the first anniversary of Mr. Rosen's incumbency as principal, he was roasted by students, teachers, and fellow administrators in an assembly organized by the Council. The auditorium was packed as "The Chosen Rosen" was teased by the speakers and everyone laughed together, including Mr. Rosen, for whom the roast was a complete surprise. The highlight of the afternoon came when Mr. Sticklor showed his sense of humor by donning plastic ears, glasses and nose to make himself look remarkably like our beloved roastee. This event reflected the relaxation of the atmosphere at NHS that occurred when Mr. Rosen took office.

For smokers, the start of our senior year brought the end of Natick High's tradition of smoking behind the A-wing and replaced it with a new social center, the Smoking Area. There were a few initial problems with those who had a sentimental attachment to the back of the school, but when the smoke lifted and a fence appeared, it looked as if the smoking area was here to stay. A permanent smoke cloud then began to permeate the B-wing, and at times it was difficult to tell which was the most popular smoke — Marlboro, Panamanian, or Columbian.

Often, the actions of our class have reflected world events. While the nation was in the midst of a recession, there was a marked increase in the number of people standing outside the dishroom of the cafeteria mumbling "gotta dime?" And, while Patty Hearst and many politicians were pleading the fifth, many of our classmates were drinking a fifth.

By the beginning of our senior year, most of us had realized that our year of graduation was 1976, the year of our country's bicentennial. The air of celebration was all around — we were constantly bombarded with tacky red, white and blue products of the commercial Spirit of '76, such as red, white and blue ice cream, beer cans, and one of the tackiest — a red, white and blue bicentennial toilet seat that plays "God Bless America" when flushed. Not to be outdone, our senior class voted to wear keepsake bicentennial caps and gowns at our graduation for a mere $4.00 extra. Such was our bicentennial spirit.

Natick High was not without its problems and probably the worst was that of vandalism. Missing ceiling panels and missing bathroom stall doors are just two examples of the wasteful destruction that occurred. However, the worst case of vandalism can still be seen on the windows of the foreign language department and the walls of the English department. Here, in our senior year, vandals with at least tacit teacher approval painted dirty pictures and words dirty enough to make even the worst student cringe — words like "bienvenidos", "welkommen" and "Shakespeare". These brightly-colored paintings destroyed the dreary image that the school was trying so hard to keep.

This outbreak of vandalism came very near International Week, a different idea tried in our senior year. Foods from different countries were offered as a much needed alternative to the delicious cafeteria food. The highlight of the week was a Mardi Gras Festival for which students got a chance to dress up and leave their roles as high school students. It is rumored that Mr. Sticklor wanted to go dressed as a member of the Spanish Inquisition (because Nobody suspects the Spanish Inquisition) but his whips were worn out from over-use.

No history can be complete without a mention of outstanding class members. The list is too numerous to mention all the students who distinguished themselves, so we will mention only a few that represent the broad range of excellence that makes Natick "The Home Of Champions."

In our junior year, 22 class members were elected to the National Honor Society. They were followed by 53 seniors elected to the Society the next year. For excellent performances on the PSAT's, 16 people received letters of commendation, 4 more were National Merit Scholarship Finalists, and one person, Larry Rowe, became a National Merit Scholar. Steve Kruger won second place at the Science Fair at MIT.

In the winter of our junior year, Jim Fahey completed The Triple Crown of auto wrecking by totaling his third consecutive car. Fortunately, no one was seriously hurt. Go for a ride, Jim?

In June of our junior year, Bruce Rockwitz, Andy Berman and Charlene Perkins were off to Boy's State and Girl's State, respectively, to learn government leadership and integrity. Ever since, the telephone company has been trying to find out who made 11 calls from Clark University, where the convention was held, to Natick, charging all the calls to random numbers out of the phone book. Our representatives learned well!

In our senior year, there were many distinguished seniors. Julie Stevens won the DAR Good Citizen Award. Stepanie Reuman and Donna Lee Walker won the John Hancock Business Award. Receiving Industrial Arts honors were: Dan Ostreicher in wood working, John O'Toole in electricity, Steve Marchetti in technical drawing and Don Burns in metal working. Connie Rauschen became one of the first girls to be admitted to the U.S. Military at West Point.

For many of us, the most severe health problem we have experienced in the past few years has been a moderate hangover. But for Paul Chaet, Mark Babcock, Steve Zanboni, Brian Fitzgerald and Jay Snow, things have been considerably worse. All five were involved in personal struggles for their lives after motorcycle and car accidents. Through their courage, strength and determination, they won the fight. Their success is a great tribute to themselves, and the certainly are a most valuable asset to our class.

In our senior year, we welcomed Selim Secuk, our AFS student from Turkey. Selim received a good sampling of American culture and in return we learned about the customs and culture of Turkey. He enjoyed his stay here as much as we enjoyed him, but he did seem to get a little edgey around Thanksgiving!

Sports for the most part of our three years were up to the usual high calibre expected from Natick teams. We witnessed the big improvement of the so-called minor sports teams and the establishment of a strong girls' program. Perhaps the biggest thrill was the 1974 Superbowl victory over Reading that gave Natick the Division One Championship. Jeff Dziama, who was named MVP on defense, Jim Fahey, Rusty Fortini, Fred Forest, Dale Henderson, Scott Reilly, Steve Miller, and Marcello Salvatierra all played a crucial role in the Natick victory.

Unfortunately, this years injury — ridden team did not fare as well despite fine efforts by Co-Captains and MVP Jeff Dziama and Co-Captain Rick Lachance's squad. In our senior year, all our athletes put in their 100%, and there were victories that can't be tallied in touchdowns, baskets or goals. Recognition for exceptional team effort should go to the girls' gymnastics team, which was able to tie for second place in the league after years of last places and to the baseball team, which made it to the state tournament. Exceptional individual performances were made by Jeff Dziama, Dan Donavan, Dan MacAlpine, Bill Cavanaugh, Janet Cope and Jane Boyle.

Our Senior Class Play, directed by Gerald Dyer, was "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie". It featured Lisa Troy and Donna Vecchione, but all 16 seniors in the show and on the crew performed with excellence. It was a senior activity that many seniors missed, but one that all should have seen. The next show at the high school was "The Matchmaker", the first play actually performed by the Drama Club. Directed by Harry Garnett, it starred seniors Sally Abbott and Phil Young. In the spring, the all-school show, "Celebrate '76" was warmly received by large audiences. Directed by Gerald Dyer, student-directed by Donna Vecchione and produced by Lisa Troy, the show featured many seniors who were well rewarded for all their hard work.

Our senior year was a good one for music. John Huling made the McDonald's All-American High School Band, Mark Greel made the All-State Orchestra and Band list, and Gary Elovitz and Kathy Cunningham made the All-State Chorus.

The annual Candlelight Concert before Christmas was well received and the second annual Pops Concert performed in the spring, under the joint supervision of Mr. Ernest Clark and Miss Karen Thomas, was one of the best concerts in years.

In addition, the Concert Choir presented the American Folk Opera, "Down in the Valley." To add to the bicentennial flavor of the evening, the performance was preceded by "The Blue and the Grey", a competitive Speech team multiple about the Civil War.

The Competitive Speech Team had three good years, ending up first, first, and second in the state in our sophomore, junior, and senior years. In our senior year, eight members including 4 seniors, qualified for national competition in Detroit. Ronna Alintuck, who also went to Detroit, qualified as well for the national competition in another league in Colorado Springs.

Our class was not without its tragedies. In our sophomore year, football coach and history teacher Dan Bennett passed away. Both on the field and in the classroom, Dan Bennett dedicated his life to kids. His accomplishments and insatiable desire for life remain an inspiration to us all.

Later in the year our class vice-president, Ricky Griffey died. Ricky was a very giving and caring person, always ready with a smile and a helping hand, but never afraid to say what he felt. His warm personality will always be missed by all who knew and loved him.

Once again tragedy struck with the death of another classmate, Ricky Theriault. Ricky was a distinct individual who was totally real and never compromised himself. His gentle and amiable personality won him many friends and made him an important part of our class.

The history Class of '76 is not yet complete. What we do from this day forth is as much a part of our Class History as what we've done in the past three years.

The past has been a mixture of both good and bad, but our happiness has overwhelmed our sorrow. Hopefully, the future holds for the Class of '76 more of the laughter, friendship and success that we've had in our years at Natick High.

Spirits of '76

EXCERPTS FROM CLASS WILL

We the Class of 1976, being of somewhat unsound mind and body, leave the following:

We the students of homeroom S-214 leave Mr. Barnicle a new beat-em-up stick, a pile of chalk, and a new P.A. system.

Rick leaves Far Star one heavily used shopping carriage.

The cast of "Celebrate '76" leaves Mr. Dyer with an unused director's chair, a broken microphone, the General, chaos the night before the show, a cast of sheep, and Greg Gillianardo as the star of next year's show.

The Calculus class also leaves Mr. Bransfield a gift certificate to get his eyebrows styled, Frick and Frack in class, Wayne in his chair, and the derivitive of the econo-dustless chalk.

The English 40 class of '76 leave Mr. Brown an all-expense paid trip around the world with Phil Shuman, lasting memories of the juicy tidbits of Marion Davis, and last but not least, we leave Mr. Brown TURNED ON!

The 1975 soccer team leaves Mr. Cioffi one cassette tape saying, "the ball doesn't come back by itself."

The Class of '76, who really wanted to be helpful, left so many things to Mr. Zide they can't all be printed.

We leave, knowing Monty Python is not just a figment of our imagination.

German III leaves Henry golfing with Gloria.

Tom Jones leaves Miss Leavitt and Morris singing, "Pussey cat, Pussey cat, I love you!"

The morning gang in room 213 leave Kay with the knowledge that someone really cared.

We, the Senior Girls, leave the Junior Girls hopefully a better batch of boys.

Dana, Mark, Gail, Steph, Janice, Andrea, and Donna leave to Mr. Mitro, once a week, the cleaning services of his senior assistant and a lot of love.

The departing seniors of the Competitive Speech Team leave Mr. Dyer a full years supply of BarBara Siegal.

A certain group of girls leave always knowing that the good times are at Apt. 13.

We, the Senior Cheerleaders, leave the Junior Cheerleaders that one special hockey game and one night celebration.

We leave Rich Zachilli one bottle of hair grower for his upper lip and one bottle of termite control.

Mary Maaggreggor leaves a pink dress to Mr. Dyer to pass on to some other unsuspecting speechie.

The students of Mrs. D's Bper. class leave her all our hopes for the future.

I, John White, leave N.H.S. very quietly, as usual.

We the '76 seniors hockey players, leave Coach Lacouture a marine uniform.

I leave my bicentennial gown to the flagpole.

We the students of Mr. Kean's B per. Integrated Math class leave N.H.S. knowing the difference between cm and sq. cm.

The senior portion of the Physics classes leave Mr. Biedryzcki as fast as the can.

I leave all my cream pies to those lovely teachers whose faces were covered by the Phantom.

The girls who went to Bermuda leave knowing that "Bermuda is another world!"

Steve leaves Rob in his cellar writing songs and trying to look like McCartney.

We leave Natick High behind the A-wing like it used to be.

I Diane leave with my hair still long.

To all those lovely Metco people who'll carry the name and spirit along to others who'll follow, Love, Peace and Soul.

We, the Spanish IV class leave Miss Ciannavei, 3 words, a mysterious Don Juan, a spikenard, and best wishes for the next 88.

I, Stephen Miller leave N.H.S., still straight.

The girls track team leaves Mr. Brenneman with his hair receding.

We, the students of Mr. McGowans' F per. class leave him one perdue and a lot of brass.

I, anonymous, leave Mr. Harrington in an unending argument about male chauvinism.

The IR class leaves Mr. Benson first place in the Gerry Ford look alike contest.

Ellen, Sally, Vickie, and Kathy leave Miss Thomas Down in the Valley.

The music department leaves Mark a rubber stamp with his autograph on it.

The A&P classes leave Miss Leavitt to all you Future Junior Klunkies.

I, Fred Grossman leave a moment of silent meditation for those students who passed away and for the members of students' family who also passed away during our years at Natick High School.

Mr. Gaudette was the lucky recipient of many thoughts from his French 41 class.

The Rape, Murder & Pillage Society Lives!

We the B&D per. English classes happily leave to Mr. Harrington all our uncorrected papers.

The senior band members leave Uncle Ernie a heated whistle and electric underwear for next year's Thanksgiving Day game.

The Yearbook Staff leaves a lot of Luck, Love and Thanks to Miss Nelson.

The Class of '76 leaves with spirit.

The outdoor-indoor picnic.

Cheese-cake anyone?

Scott McGrath, Cami Bruni

Yesterday we were sophomores and now all three years have flown by. The ups and downs that seemed to last for ages have all become short minutes in our memories.

Our expressions at graduation were as new to us as our new lives. The protective shell of school suddenly cracked open to expose us to a known but somehow new world. Taking that first shaky step toward our individuality brought tears and smiles.

Now we've begun to reach out toward "our" world and we've begun to leave our mark like all the generations before us. And we'll do it with tears, smiles, and a lot of love.
